Formal Wage-Price Controls Averted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today the erection of a three-way governmental barrier to spiraling inflation, while promising: "I will not take this nation down the road of wage and price controls."

Nixon thus gave way to increasing pressure for a policy of voluntary restraint on wages and prices.

In a nationwide TV-radio broadcast on economic policy, he lectured business and labor on their responsibility to refrain from excessive price markups and wage increases.

"The fight against inflation is everybody's business," the President said.

He announced these actions to pull the reins tighter on inflation:

Productivity
1. A National Commission on Productivity will be named with representatives from business, labor, government and the public. Its duty will be to find ways of increasing output per worker and bringing a balance between cost and productivity to assure more stable prices.

Regulations Board
2. Nixon directed the Council of Economic Advisers to prepare a periodic "inflation alert" to spotlight significant wage and price bulges and analyze their inflationary impact. "This inflation alert will call attention to outstanding cases of price or wage increases and will be made public by the National Commission on Productivity," Nixon said.

3. A Regulations and Purchasing Review Board is being set up to review federal purchasing procedures to assure that they do not drive up costs and prices; and to review import policy to see whether supplies can be increased to meet rising consumer demand without loss of jobs at home.

"This administration, by its spending restraint, has set the example in this past year; we believe we have now earned the right to call for similar restraint from business and labor to slow down inflation," Nixon said.

Nixon assured the nation that "a peacetime economy is clearly on the way." He promised:

"Our scheduled withdrawal of forces from Cambodia on June 30 will be kept."

"Our scheduled transition from a wartime economy to a peacetime consumer economy will be kept as well."

Reorder Priorities
"While our economy adapts to the reordering of our national priorities and resources, we are undergoing a second great change. We are trying to do something that has never been done before; to avoid a recession while we bring a major inflation to an end."

"Now is the time," Nixon said, "for business at every level to take price actions more consistent with a stable cost of living, and now is the time for labor to structure its wage demands to better achieve a new stability of costs."

"The fight against inflation is everybody's business. If you act against the national interest, you contribute to inflation in your price or wage demands—then you are acting against your own best interests and your customers' best interests, and that is neither good business nor good bargaining."

Gibson, a 33-year old civil engineer, added, "Look at Stokes and Hatcher and if you look at supporters, although he carried three Negro councilmen into office, the background you'll find these guys are just head and shoulders above the ones they replaced."

Gibson's headquarters said there was a tentative move being made to set a meeting with Addonizio later in the day. The mayor's office said Addonizio had suggested the meeting and would try to return from Trenton in time to sit down with Gibson and discuss the transition of government.

Negro Parade
After Gibson was declared winner, hundreds of Negroes paraded the main street of this racially divided city, New Jersey's largest, some shouting "Power to the people!" and waving clenched fists in a Black Power salute.

Gibson is the third Negro elected mayor of a major American city. The others are Carl Stokes in Cleveland and Richard Hatcher in Gary, Ind. Both took office in 1968.

In a recent Associated Press interview, Gibson said, "When you look at the qualifications, and backgrounds of black mayors in this country, you'll find areas where former Fire Directors compared to the men they replaced they stand head and shoulders above on qualifications and experience alone."

Patman is chairman of the entire House Banking Committee. The chairman had written Nixon that many members of the committee "are deeply concerned by the apparent inaction on the part of the federal government in the face of a mounting economic crisis." We are going through a period of difficulty as was inevitable once the 1965-68 Nixon replied, "I am pleased that you use the word 'apparent'."

Voters Oust Addonizio For First Black Mayor

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Kenneth Gibson, a 33-year old civil engineer, added, "Look at Stokes and Hatcher and if you look at supporters, although he carried three Negro councilmen into office, the background you'll find these guys are just head and shoulders above the ones they replaced."

Gibson's headquarters said there was a tentative move being made to set a meeting with Addonizio later in the day. The mayor's office said Addonizio had suggested the meeting and would try to return from Trenton in time to sit down with Gibson and discuss the transition of government.

Gibson, who takes office July 1, will face a City Council dominated by whites and Addonizio, a distant cousin of the mayor, also lost. "We are prepared to face the challenges of Newark, but we have no magic," Gibson said. Racial rioting took 26 lives in 1967 and racial ill-feeling was fanned by statements during the election campaign. Police Director Dominick Spina summed up the election as "a question of black versus white" in a campaign speech for Addonizio. Gibson said his first act as mayor would be to fire Spina.

Ordeal in Brazil

Ambassador Released Day After Hostages Were Freed

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The West German ambassador to Brazil was released Tuesday night, had a quick snack of orange juice and eggs and told newsmen he would tell them later about his five-day ordeal at the mercy of political kidnappers.

Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben was freed on a Rio de Janeiro street nearly 24 hours after the arrival in Algiers of 40 political prisoners whose freedom was demanded by the kidnappers. The diplomat was given a ride home by a young lawyer who recognized him.

It was the third political kidnapping in Brazil since last September, and the ninth of a diplomat by antigovernment forces in Latin America. All have been released unharmed except Count Karl von Spreti, the West German ambassador to Guatemala, who was murdered last April after the Guatemalan government refused to free prisoners demanded as ransom.

Snatched Thursday
Von Holleben was pulled from his car last Thursday by nine young men and a woman carrying machine guns. They killed one Brazilian security guard and wounded two others before speeding the envoy away. Leaflets strewn on the street identified the kidnappers as members of the Popular Revolutionary Vanguard, an underground leftist group opposing the military regime in Brazil.

"Yes, I'm all right," the 61-year-old diplomat said as he got out of the car in front of his residence. He looked tired and worn, and his tan suit was wrinkled and creased, but he seemed to be in good shape otherwise.

Police cleared a path through newsmen and onlookers, and von Holleben made his way into the residence to greet his wife and two sons.

The ambassador appeared on the balcony of the embassy residence of Rio when the ambassador approached and asked for a brief statement. He expressed grief over the ride but did say he was all the slaying of the security agent.

The Mail Gets Through

Neither Fog, Nor Waves...

DETROIT (AP) — The mail-in-a-pail postal service begins its 75th year of deliveries today to ships passing the city on the Detroit River.

Known as the Detroit River Post Office, it consists of a boat which has its own zip code — 48222 — and plies the waters 24 hours a day seven days a week.

About 50 times a day, the mailboat J. J. Westcott II leaves its dockside station on the American side of the river for a rendezvous with ocean-going or Great Lakes freighters.

When the Westcott comes alongside a freighter, a seaman on the larger ship lowers a pail containing mail to be posted.

When this is emptied, the pail is filled with letters, newspapers and packages for the ship's crew.

Detroit Postmaster Edward

L. Baker said more than one million pieces of mail will be handled this season in some 14,000 deliveries. About 2,000 of these will go to foreign vessels.

The first mail-by-pail delivery on the Detroit River was made June 17, 1895, by a man in a rowboat who was towed into the path of an oncoming ship by a small powerboat and left there until the delivery was completed.

Use the Oars
He had to use his oars to keep out of the way of the ship while staying close enough to make the mail exchange.

The powerboat then towed him back to shore. "I don't envy that fellow in the rowboat, whoever he was," said Capt. Bill Adamek, a mailboat skipper for 22 years.

The river postmen are free of one of the hazards faced by their shorebound counterparts — being bitten by dogs — but, said Adamek, the winds often "stir up waves eight feet high."

Heavy fog is frequent, too. Also, the mailboat has to step lively when it becomes involved with two freighters moving in opposite directions in the same stretch of river.

The post office is staffed by four persons and has mail boxes for about 1,000 ships.

Adamek is one of three skippers on the mail run, operated by the Westcott Co., founded in 1870 to provide marine reports and other marine service.

The company has been under government contract to provide mail deliveries since 1948.

Israel Resumes Raids Into Syria After 3-Month Pause

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli commandos made their first raid into Syria in three months Tuesday night and their deepest since the 1967 Middle East war.

A military spokesman in Tel Aviv said the raiders penetrated 70 miles into the neighboring country, striking a bridge 40 miles south of Damascus and shelling an army base 49 miles northeast of the capital.

Damascus Radio said the raiders killed two Syrians and injured five. It did not mention the bridge but said an Israeli helicopter attacked an army camp north of Damascus while enemy planes were on the southern part of the country.

It said Syrian jets chased them off. An Israeli spokesman said the Syria closed its airspace to commercial traffic for three hours, acts of aggression by Syrian troops and Arab guerrillas in the past month. He said three Israelis were killed and 15 wounded in recent Syrian attacks.

Israel did not say how the commandos traveled and made no mention of any ground forces. Apparently they were hauled in and out by helicopter. A spokesman said all the raiders returned safely. Syria said an Israeli helicopter flew in via Lebanese air space near the town of Nabk, 25 miles north of Damascus. "The helicopter shelled an army camp with mortars and then withdrew from whence it came," the broadcast said.

Later Tuesday night, the Syrian port continued. Israeli planes raided Southern Syria. "One enemy plane was hit before the raiders withdrew," the broadcast said.

Airport sources in Beirut said Syria closed its airspace to commercial traffic for three hours, acts of aggression by Syrian troops and Arab guerrillas in the past month. He said three Israelis were killed and 15 wounded in recent Syrian attacks.

Cairo said its warplanes crossed the Suez Canal for the first time in nearly two weeks and hit Israeli positions along the northern half of the waterway. An Egyptian spokesman said the planes scored "direct hits" and returned safely. The Israelis claimed they destroyed one jet.

Israeli jets continued their daily attacks across the canal, striking Egyptian targets intermittently all day. The Israeli command said all the planes returned safely.

In Amman, the scene of bitter fighting last week between Palestinian guerrillas and Jordanian army forces, the guerrillas announced formation of a steering committee to supervise commando activity in the military, political and information fields. The announcement said the committee would become the highest Palestinian authority, outranking the central committee that currently includes all guerrilla organizations.

The new high command will have five members, the announcement said, including Al Fatah, leader Yasir Arafat and Dr. George Habash of the Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, on a visit to Rome, told Italian Foreign Minister Aldo Moro Tuesday that Israel wants to maintain "just borders" to meet its security needs and not to retain the Arab territories it occupied in the 1967 war.

Parallel With Soviet Talks

Peace Bid Directly to Egypt Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The East crisis may open up new opportunities for peace negotiations for a break in the Middle East crisis, is considering a direct new approach to Egypt parallel with renewed Soviet-U.S. talks on developing an Arab-Israeli peace formula.

Such a step is being considered as part of a U.S. program which is expected to provide a pledge to Israel of additional jet planes to offset recently increased Soviet military help to Egypt.

Some highly placed officials are represented as hopeful the intensity of the present Middle East crisis may open up new opportunities for peace negotiations.

Up to now the administration appeared to be concentrating its efforts on searching with the Soviets for the statement of principles which would enable the Israeli and Arab governments, particularly Egypt, to eventually negotiate a settlement.

Officials now rule out exclusive reliance on the Soviets as a U.S.-Egypt go-between. Either publicly or through diplomatic channels, or both, the probability is said to be high that Nixon will probe recent indications that Egyptian President Nasser is interested in exploring the possibilities of peace through a reply from President Nixon.

One Nasser move came in a May Day speech in which he appealed directly to President Nixon not to provide more military aid to Israel. He added that "in spite of all that has happened we have not closed the door to negotiations."

U.S. authorities saw Nasser's speech at the time as an argument against selling additional phantom jets to Israel.

It is now said in official quarters that Nasser's May Day speech deserves and will receive a reply from President Nixon.

But the reply is being formulated here in the light of a more recent Nasser comment recorded in Cairo about a month ago and broadcast by National Educational Television stations last week on the program "Advocates we have not closed the door to negotiations."

Nasser said in the broadcast he would restore a cease-fire on the Arab side that could last for six months if Israel declared its intention to withdraw to its pre-June, 1967 boundaries.

Nasser also spoke of a package settlement understood by American officials as a set of peace terms. The package includes Arab recognition of Israel's existence and territory and Arab recognition would be concluded before Israel actually withdrew from the territory conquered in the six-day war three years ago.

In the past Nasser has called for pre-condition for negotiations. There also have been endless difficulties from Arab rejection of Israel's demand for direct negotiations.

Initial Funding Approved for Educational TV

UW Station Project
Into Three Phases

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — After being assured that it was right initially in refusing to release the money, the State Building Commission has started doling out the funds the University of Wisconsin television station says are necessary to keep it on the air.

The commission Monday released $242,000 as the first phase of a funding project for a new transmitter, antenna, and tower for WHA-TV, the UW station in Madison which reaches, it says, 80,000 Wisconsin school children with educational broadcasts.

The commission earlier this year had balked at releasing $642,000 for the project, which had not been included by name in the 1969-71 building program approved by the Legislature.

Agency Balked

Instead, the UW proposed that it be financed out of a multi-million dollar "minor project" section of the building program.

Led by State Rep. David O. Martin, R-Neenah, the state agency balked at releasing the funds, pointing to a new section in the budget expressly forbidding such transfers of funds for unauthorized projects totaling more than $250,000.

The commission won from Atty. Gen. Robert Warren a legal opinion holding that they acted properly, and Deputy Atty. Gen. Arvid Sather was on hand to confirm that they were right.

After gaining that assurance, the commission then turned around and, over Martin's objections, split the WHA project into three sections each totaling less than $250,000.

Approve First Phase

They approved the first phase, but warned UW officials that their action was not an indication that the commission will automatically give approval to the next two phases.

That course had been proposed by station officials, who said that it could be carried out during three successive commission meetings.

They had proposed the division of the project into the three parts. The first phase, calling for the transmitter installation, totals $242,458, including the actual transmitter at a cost of $203,500. The second phase proposes an antenna at a cost of $218,090 and the third phase, $235,000 tower.

Total project cost under the three-part plan would be about $695,000, or about 6 per cent over estimates for carrying the project through to completion in one step, the commission was told.

No Automatic Okay

On a 5-3 vote, the agency okayed the first phase, but State Sen. Robert P. Knowles, R-New Richmond, warned that it should not be understood to mean that the agency would automatically approve the other two steps before the 1971 Legislature passes the next budget.

In other actions, the commission also approved the release of

Boys Rescue Couple At Lake Winnebago

Two unidentified young people nearby cottage where they were staying were reported rescued from Lake Winnebago about 3:30 p.m. Monday after one of them fell into the water and the other tried to rescue her.

The pair was rescued by Owen Marx, 15, and James Marx Jr., 12, sons of retired Navy Cmdr. James H. Marx who is vacationing with his family at Firelane 4.

Marx is a former Kaukauna resident now living in Alexandria, Va., who has returned to the area to serve as chairman of the Kaukauna High School alumni rally next weekend.

He reported that a man and woman, about age 20, were operating a sailboat about a mile off shore when the woman fell overboard. Her male companion went into the water to rescue her.

Marx said the pair's call for help could be heard on shore.

His sons were operating a motorboat at the time and went to the scene. They came alongside, turned off the motor and helped the woman and then the man into their craft over the back transom.

The boys reported that the man was holding onto the woman and keeping her afloat. Marx said the sailboat was about 50 feet away at the time of the rescue and being blown away from the couple.

After being taken into shore, the sailboat occupants were given hot showers and left for a $75,000 for the planning and construction of the first phase of a food service building renovation at the Green Bay Reformatory at a total project cost of $84,000.

Deferred the purchase of a $15,400 lot in Oshkosh, but allocated $3,500 for minor repairs at the school. The rest of the $32,000 repair budget is to come from operating funds of the school, the commission directed.

Judge Finds Boy Delinquent

Appleton Youth
Charged With Thefts, Attempted Forgery

A 13-year-old Appleton boy was found delinquent in Juvenile Court Monday and received one year's supervision to the Outagamie County Department of Social Services.

Judge Raymond P. Dohr declared the boy delinquent on three theft counts, charges of attempting to pass a forged check and a disorderly conduct charge brought after a fight with a 12-year-old boy on the St. Therese School playground. The 12-year-old received chipped teeth and broken glasses in the Feb. 20 scuffle.

On Nov. 11, 1969, the boy and a 14-year-old companion took an unmarked check from the mailbox of an Appleton resident, endorsed it, and tried to pass the $20 forged check Nov. 22 at a northside business place.

Last Dec. 18 and 19, the pair snatched a wallet and purse from the homes of two women while posing as delivery boys for The Post-Crescent. The pair claimed they were making the route collection for the regular paper boy who was ill.

The boy, who made his first appearance in Juvenile Court Monday, pleaded guilty to all the charges except the last.

Dohr ordered restitution be made for the stolen money from the wallet and purse, and for dental and optometric bills incurred by the family of the 12-year-old.

Court proceedings for the 14-year-old are being handled through a court in Michigan where the boy now lives.

3-Fold Population Increase Forecast

U.N. Secretariat Bases 80-Year Prediction on Present Trends

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Unless current trends change the world 80 years hence will have three persons for every one now living.

That is the projection of the U.N. secretariat, presented in a background paper to help a committee of experts suggest new studies on the relationships between population trends and economic development.

The paper says the world is "faced with the high probability that, if present trends continue, the inhabitants of the planet may outnumber 11 billion as early as the middle of the 21st century."

The estimated 1970 population is 3.362 billion.

The secretariat shows what it means by "present trends" in detailed projections to the end of the 20th century.

These indicate that from now till then the world's crude birth rate will fall a fourth—from 33.2 down to 25.1 live births per 1,000 people—while the crude death rate will fall a third—from 12.8 to 8.1 deaths per 1,000. Life expectancy at birth will rise to 66½ years from 55½.

Annual Rate
That will bring the annual rate of world population growth down from 1970's 2 per cent to 1.7 per cent in the year 2000.

After that, even though the growth rate may continue to decline, "the annual increments in population will continue to become larger."

The paper says the prospect of 11 billion human beings by 2050 may prompt reconsideration of the idea of stabilizing the world's population by somehow achieving a zero growth rate.

But for the moment, it remarks, that idea is both highly hypothetical.

In most developing countries, it says, high population growth "tends to increase the numbers of those segments of the population—illiterate, unskilled, agricultural, rural and the like—that were characteristic of pre-modern societies. Thus such growth "is conducive to perpetuating economic backwardness, low productivity and inadequate living conditions."

Developing Countries
To cut their population growth, some developing countries have launched birth control programs to lower fertility rates.

"However," the paper says, "in view of the modest achievements of these programs, there is a growing appreciation that family planning alone cannot bring fertility to an adequate level, and that economic and social change has to pave the way for fertility control."

Experience shows, it adds, that economic and social change does lead to fertility control—that "a high level of economic development is accompanied by small families and low national fertility."

One theory is that the more diversified the economy becomes the more products and services parents have to spend money on. Thus they may choose to have fewer children so that they can spend less on children and more on other things.

Reinstatement Won by Teacher In Obscenity Case

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge has directed that a Montgomery high school teacher, dismissed for assigning what school officials said was obscene reading matter, be returned to her job.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. ordered the Montgomery County school board Tuesday to reinstate Marilyn Parducci and reimburse her for the time she was absent.

Mrs. Parducci, an 11th-grade English teacher at Jeff Davis High School, was discharged in April after instructing pupils to read Kurt Vonnegut Jr.'s "Welcome to the Monkey House."

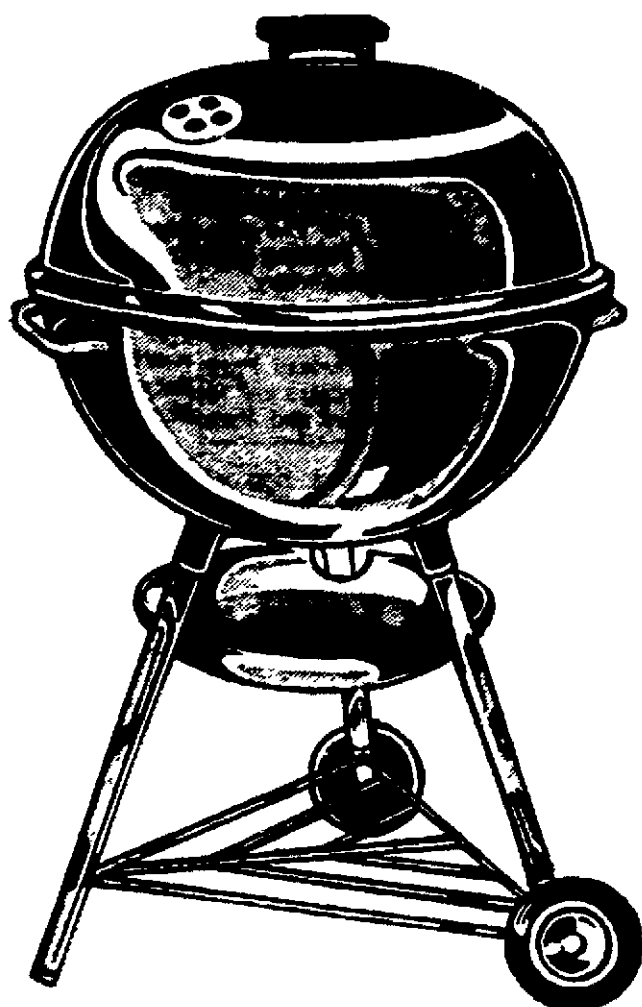

Johnson said Tuesday the assignment caused no "threatened or actual substantial disruption of the educational processes" and that the majority of pupils reacted with indifference.

Environment Is Being Cleaned Up

HAMILTON, Ont. — George Carruthers, president of Kimberly-Clark of Canada, Ltd., produced some figures last week that go against current horror stories about the environment.

The Canadian pulp and paper industry has trimmed the amount of suspended solids in rivers and lakes by 60 per cent in the last eight years, he said. The United States, he said, is using only 10 per cent of its available water, while Canada is using an even smaller percentage.

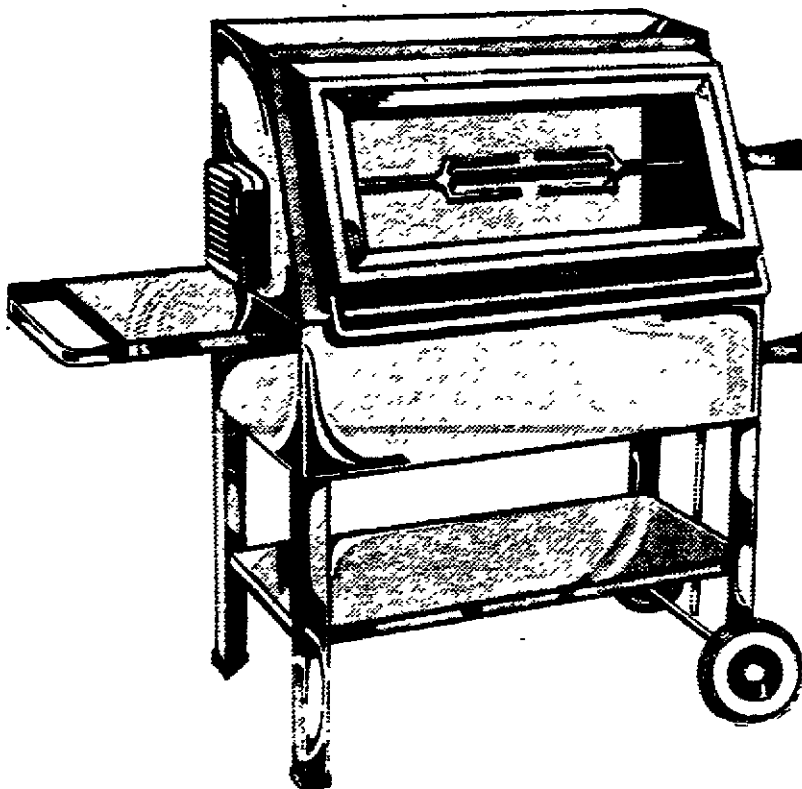

"We should not be stampeded by hysterical statements of purveyors of doom that we are running out of water and that the atmosphere will be so polluted that we shall all suffocate," Carruthers said. "Both are renewable resources."

Today is Wednesday, June 17th, the 168th day of 1970. There are 197 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1568, Sir Francis Drake landed on the California coast.

On this date:

In 1703, the founder of Methodism, John Wesley, was born in England.

In 1775, the Revolutionary War battle of Bunker Hill was fought near Boston.

In 1940, France asked Germany for peace terms in World War II.

In 1959, Eamon de Valera was elected president of the Irish Republic after serving for more than 20 years as prime minister.

In 1963, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the required recitation of the Lord's Prayer or Bible verses in public schools was unconstitutional.

In 1967, Communist China announced it had exploded its first hydrogen bomb.

Ten years ago — Communist China opened a heavy bombardment of the Nationalist offshore island of Quemoy.

Five years ago—American B-52 bombers based on Guam carried out their first raids on Vietnam.

One year ago—A Communist summit conference ended in Moscow without making any statement critical of Communist China.

Veterans' Disability Benefits Increase Approved by House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed 313-0 a bill that would increase veterans' disability benefits July 1 by an average of 10 per cent.

The bill was passed Monday and sent to the Senate, which has passed its own version.

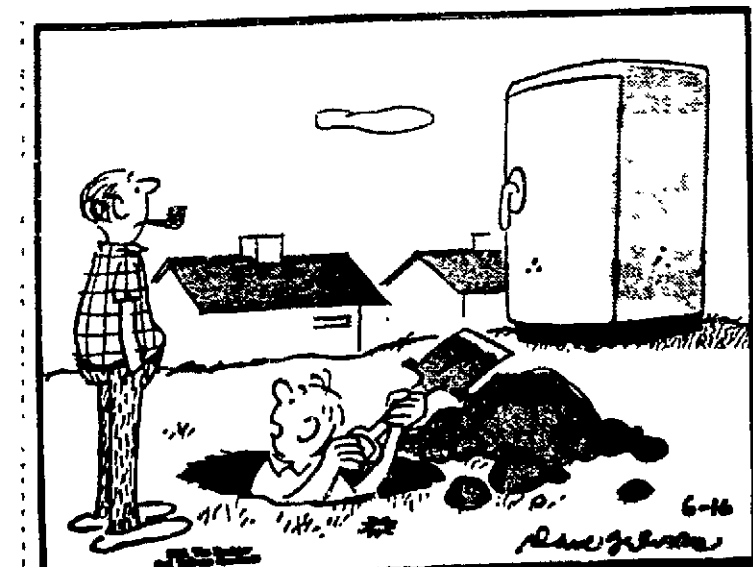

The House bill would grant an increase of 8 per cent to those with disabilities rated from 10 to 40 per cent, an 11 per cent boost to those with from 50 to 90 per cent disability, and a 12 per cent increase to those totally disabled.

The House also sent to the Senate a bill that would increase from $1,600 to $2,500 the maximum amount of aid toward the purchase of a car by amputee veterans or those whose sight is impaired.

And it sent to the President a Senate-passed bill that would increase from $10,000 to $15,000 the maximum amount of insurance available under the servicemen's group life insurance program.

Dr. Thosteson

This is not an uncommon complaint, and generally due to pressure on a nerve or interference with circulation. But where? Which nerve? That's the question.

Here are the principal answers:

—The position of your arm when sleeping may exert pressure somewhere — on a nerve or blood vessel.

—You may have changes (osteoarthritis) in the bones in the neck. Since nerves serving the arm and hand emanate from the spinal cord a bony knob on a vertebra may press on the nerve there — especially when you are lying down which could explain why your troubles occur only at night.

—A condition called carpal tunnel syndrome can cause numbness of the hand. This involves pressure from fibrous band in warm water and rubbing where certain nerves bring it. I'm sure the warm pass through the wrist to the water does no harm, but I mishap

For the second possibility, neck traction can be very helpful.
For diagnosis of any of the conditions, the services of an orthopedist (bone specialist) are very helpful, and for the third route one listed, you definitely need a specialist's care. In that case, steroid injections may help, or surgery on the wrist may be needed.

Let's just say you have a spot on your hand. Maybe it's fungus — maybe something else. It could (if the cat was responsible) be an allergic reaction to the cat's saliva. A cat's tongue is rough; some irritation could be involved.
My suggestion is to avoid the cat-licking. If there's no improvement, see your doctor or a dermatologist for an accurate diagnosis and treatment.

The heart beat produces small electrical impulses — tiny but strong enough to be recorded and measured when an electrocardiogram is made.
"Low voltage" means that these electrical impulses are of lower than normal amplitude. This can be due to several conditions, low thyroid activity, or low potassium level in the blood, or it can result from weakness of a heart muscle damaged by heart disease.

3 Parks in Combined Locks Running Summer Recreation

COMBINED LOCKS — The 10-week summer play program in the village will continue through Aug. 21 with supervised activity scheduled at three parks from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Fridays and from 6 to 8 p.m. Thursdays. Supervision will be at Pavilion Park Mondays and Thursdays, at Van Zeeland Park on Tuesdays and Fridays and at Blaese Park, Richard and Jean

A T-League will be organized for boys from 5 through 7 years of age. Teams already signed for use of the Van Zeeland Park softball diamond include 16-inch Men's League, Little League and Women's League. Janssen School diamond will be open to anyone without permit, but permits will be required from Village Clerk Mrs. Irene Rehmer for those desiring to use Van Zeeland fields on nights when other leagues are not scheduled.

Handicraft projects and organized games are being arranged for all parks together with a special weekly event. On many days the pavilion will be open for recreational activity. The entire program is under the supervision of the park and recreation committee of the Village Board.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Thosteson regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

College Costs Continue Their Upward Spiral

BY SYLVIA PORTER
(One in a series of 2 columns)

The cost of sending your child to Harvard this coming school year — tuition and fees, room and board — will come to $40,000 to $60,000. Add transportation, books, laundry, phone bills, countless other miscellaneous expenses, and you're up to nearly $5,000 — for one year!

If your child's college is the newly turned co-educational Sarah Lawrence in Bronxville, New York, the basic charge for tuition, room and board is $4,300. The total cost of attending this prestigious college now approaches $6,000 for many students.

Porter

Last year, three out of four U.S. colleges raised their tuition and fees, many by $200 to $300. Now tuition hikes in this same range are being announced by the staggering financial burden facing today's 35 to 45-year-old college for the parents. And mind you, these high costs are across-the-board. At Princeton, Yale, Dartmouth, Brown and other top colleges, increases already announced will lift tuition and fees alone to $2,500 to $2,600 or more.

$28,000 for 4 Years

Thus, if your child attends an Ivy League college for four years, the cost will approximate $28,000 and this assumed — very unrealistically — that college costs will stay at today's levels. If you have two or three children now nearing college age, your total expense could rocket to $40,000 to $60,000. If your children went to college in the era when the couple of kids in college at the same time. Where does the extra $18,000-a-year family get an extra $6,000 to $10,000 for education costs?

Even worse, high as college expenses are, the amount you pay to cover tuition and fees, now covers, on average, only one-third of the total instructional costs for one year at a private college and only one-fourth of these costs at public colleges. Without huge endowments, huge infusions of public funds and huge contributions from alumni and private foundations, most U.S. colleges simply would sink financially.

And, worst of all, there is absolutely no relief in sight. Big pay increases are being won in most cases, long over-

Remedy for Blues Is Service to Mankind

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What is the most common malady of our times? A doctor might say it was headache or head colds. A dentist would vote for tooth decay. A barber might nominate dandruff or, rather, the conditions that cause it.

But probably the most prevalent ailment that has preyed upon man in all ages and climates affects chiefly not his body but his mind. It is that disease of the human spirit known colloquially as "the blues."

You can get it from a hundred different specific causes. It can come from being broke or out of work out of love or from just plain feeling "out of sorts" with everybody and everything. Of itself it merely consists of a life-defeated at some time in nameless, aimless feeling of their careers, no matter how hopeful or buoyant their natures.

Just what can you do to snap out of it when you're feeling low and everything is going wrong? Here are a few suggestions given me by those interviewees, some famous, some merely famous:

Stand on your head, literally.

To get a different view of things. Take a cold shower. Walk or drive a different way home.

Memorize a poem. Reread your old love letters. Clean out a closet.

Count your blessings. Write down all the worries that are bothering you and then light a match and burn the paper, thus symbolically destroying them.

Avoid the people who bug you. Go window shopping. Cook a new dish you've never tried before.

Buy something brightly colored you've never dared wear before.

Hike into the hills and shout your woes aloud until the echoes make you realize how insignificant they are.

Feed The Elephants

Go into a park and listen to the children laugh.

Go to a zoo and feed peanuts to the elephant.

Make a game out of seeing how many hours a day you can let pass without complaining about anything or criticizing anyone.

Pour out your troubles to an old friend who is really fond of you.

Visit a hospital and try to cheer up someone who is sicker than you.

Write a Check

Write a check—more than you can afford—to a good cause. You've always supported more with your mouth than your money.

Get a new job or take a vacation to a place you've never been before.

Ponder the wisdom of the old saying, "This, too, will pass." Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is one of many who found comfort in this four-word remedy.

Pray. Pray not just lying in a lonely bed at night, but in your heart at your desk, or in a dimly lit church during your lunch period.

Summed up, all these cures for the blues have one basic thought: Don't just sit there feeling sorry for yourself. Get up and do something—right now. Almost any change or action you take, within the limits of common sense, will probably make you feel better.

Rhodes Won't Quit Campus Panel Despite Agnew Prod

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Joseph Rhodes Jr. says he has no intention of quitting President Nixon's Commission on Campus Unrest despite Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's assertion that he "should resign immediately."

Agnew's ire was roused by remarks critical of the administration attributed to the 22-year-old junior fellow at Harvard University in a New York Times interview.

The vice president said at a news conference in Detroit Tuesday the statements by Rhodes—appointed to the commission last Saturday—showed "a transparent bias that will make him counterproductive to the work of the commission."

At a subsequent news conference of his own in Cambridge, Rhodes declared:

Asked by President "I must presume the President does not want a whitewash. I was asked by the President to serve on this commission. I have no intention of resigning. I will serve unless asked otherwise by the President."

Negro Men Make Strides With Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro married men made substantial strides toward parity with whites in new blue collar jobs during the last decade, a special U.S. Census Bureau report discloses.

Negroes, who represent only 11 per cent of the population, got 28 per cent of the new craftsmen and operative openings that went to family men between 1960 and 1969, the report said.

During the same period, the bureau said in the unpublished report, the median income of the married Negro blue collar worker jumped 44 per cent while income for white married men in the same occupations rose 27 per cent.

The report dealt only with the earnings of black and white husbands and did not include the 30 per cent of the nation's 5 million Negro households headed by a woman.

Craftsmen and operatives include industrial workers as well as specialists such as carpenters and plumbers. Not included are clerical and sales workers, service employees and laborers.

Poverty expert Sar Levitan of George Washington University's Center for Manpower Policy Studies said the figures indicate a slow but sure breakdown in racial barriers.

"They are very real changes," the economist said. "They are not just isolated in any particular geographic area or in any specific industry."

The Census Bureau prepared the tabulation at the request and expense of Levitan, who is studying America's blue collar work force.

Kennedy Loses Respect With Inquest Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the publication of the Chappaquiddick inquest findings, public opinion nation wide has taken a decisive turn against Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the Louis Harris survey reports.

By 53 to 23 per cent, a majority of 1,287 households queried between May 8 and 10 agreed with the judge's final opinion, "doubting that Sen. Edward Kennedy turned on the dirt road, by mistake on his way back to the mainland" and finding that "the senator's driving probably contributed" to the death of Mary Jo Kopechne, the survey stated.

It added that the number who say they "respect Ted Kennedy less" has increased from 28 per cent immediately after the accident last July to 43 per cent last month, the survey states.

College Men Have Best Chance Few Will Escape Draft Under Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective Service Director Curtis W. Tarr says relatively few persons will be able to escape the draft because of the Supreme Court's new, less restrictive definition of conscientious objectors.

But if anyone can, it will be the young college graduate, especially if he studied a lot of philosophy and religion.

Although Tarr said in a Tuesday news conference the decision by the court, along with a separate but related ruling, would not "open the flood gates" for each man to write his own classification, a bit of uncertainty is shadowing the draft as a result.

Difficult Deception      The court ruled Monday that conscientious objection could be based on moral or ethical grounds as well as religious beliefs.

In telling newsmen the decision, Tarr said, "It will be difficult for people to profess sincerity when there is no sincerity. It will be difficult to profess rigorous training and belief for someone who doesn't even take the trouble of looking up the footnotes."

But Tarr conceded, in questioning, college students are exactly the people most likely to quote the philosophers and look up the footnotes.

In the other case Monday, the Supreme Court also ruled that a draft board must reconsider the draft status of a man who offers pertinent new evidence supporting a claim for some other classification.

For instance, a man with a student or I-A classification can offer proof—as did the subject of the second court decision—that he had since developed beliefs that make him a conscientious objector.

Consider Claim      If his evidence appears at all for serious, the local draft board must consider his claim.

Draft officials have been counting heavily on June graduates, who were expected to lose their student deferments and become I-A in time to help fill draft calls for the rest of this year.

But, coming on the heels of an unexpected drop of Army enlistments last month, the new avenue of conscientious objection becasts further uncertainty on existing C.O. claims. The application that the draft need reach no higher than lottery number 215 this year.

If enlistments continue low, or if conscientious objection should increase seriously, the draft might have to call more men than expected.

Some 243,000 men graduated from college this spring, and about 191,000 were expected to be reclassified I-A—available for service—over the next few months.

Of them, about 52,000 would probably be drafted this year under the Pentagon's current manpower estimates.

In fact, more than 36,000 have already had their draft numbers called and they will stand first in line as soon as local draft boards finish reclassifying them.

Tarr said draft boards would be given four guidelines in deciding C.O. claims. The applicant's belief "must be sincere"; he must oppose "war in all forms"; his belief must stem from study of "the thoughts of some wise men" and "some rigorous kind of training."

K-C's Revamped Magazine Lists Antipollution Moves

NEENAH—A review of some of Kimberly-Clark Corp.'s efforts to protect the environment is included in the cover study of the latest edition of the corporation's revamped employee magazine.

"Preaching What We Practice" tells how 16 of the company's 24 water-using manufacturing plants in the United States now meet or exceed national stream improvement standards and how, by 1972, all will.

The company explains that the cost of abatement measures at each mill ranges from about $200,000 to $2 million "to make of the oldest employee publication an important contribution in the fight against pollution."

It is pointed out in the ecology article that the dyes used in colored tissue products are medically tested and periodically checked in the interests of health and safety. "They are nontoxic, don't kill fish or plant life and don't promote harmful algae growth. There is no evidence that colored tissues behave any differently from white tissues when it comes to disposability and health and safety," the article says.

Revamping of the 57-year-old publication, Cooperation, included typography, design and layout changes. The magazine, one of the oldest employee publications in the country, is printed and printed by George Banta Lithofect and Kimberly Col. Co.

Industries Told They're Shutting Their Eyes to Drug Problems

BY TIM WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
MADISON—Two per cent of the American work force has a drug problem, and employers are showing an unwillingness to recognize the problem and its dangers, an insurance spokesman has told a state drug council.

"If a company has 50 employees, it can expect to have somebody in trouble with drugs," said James Ray of Employers Insurance of Wausau to the state Drug Abuse Control Commission.

"It doesn't matter whether they are getting drugs legally or illegally," he said. "A machine doesn't know whether it's legal or illegal," Ray told the state unit, referring to accident statistics.

American industry is ignoring the drug abuse problem in its ranks in the same fashion in which it ignored alcoholism 20 years ago, he said. Industry still does not have adequate detection and treatment programs for alcoholism, although society has recognized the scope of that problem, he said.

No Policy

Less than one per cent of U.S. business has any written company policy on drug abuse problems, he said.

"By and large most companies are unaware that they are literally taking the drug culture into their plants," he said of the hiring of young people.

"Top flight people"—insurance salesmen, engineers and the like—are drawn from college populations where drug abuse problems are accented, said Ray.

"It's curious how management tends to deny it," when asked about drug problems, however, he added.

His comments to the commission headed by Gov. Warren P. Knowles riled Republican State Sen. Nile Soik of Whitefish Bay.

He said that the comments were a "blanket indictment" of American industry, and added that he doubted the problem is as large in private enterprise as Ray depicted it to be.

Dr. Joseph Benforado, a University of Wisconsin expert on drug use and abuse, immediately sided with Ray, however. Several national studies have shown that the 2 per cent figure is accurate, he said.

Industry must realize that it is drawing its work force from high school and college products, and young people are growing up today in an atmosphere of acceptance of drug use, he said.

Robert Walter of the State Council Justice pointed out that losses of effective work and training cost losses of fired personnel are a greater problem to industry from drug abuse than are accidents.

Resort to Coverups

People in industry, said Ray, resort to "monstrous" and "bizarre coverups" rather than admit that workers in their plants have drug abuse problems.

He advocated the "worry" approach. Supervisory personnel should immediately suspect any unexplainable behavior among their workers, he said.

Rather than playing at amateur diagnosis, workers with such symptoms should be sent immediately for counseling from sources outside the firm.

Coated Paper, NCR Agree On Acquisition

The boards of directors of the two companies—National Cash Register Co. and Appleton Coated Paper Co.—announced that they had agreed in principle to a proposed acquisition of Appleton Coated Paper Co. by NCR.

The proposed acquisition is subject to the usual audits, favorable tax rulings or opinions of the state and other legal requirements as well as the approval of the stockholders of Appleton Coated.

Second Largest

NCR is the second largest manufacturer of business equipment in the world with headquarters at Dayton, Ohio. Its operations cover all major cities in the United States and over 100 countries abroad. NCR's 1969 annual sales exceeded $1.25 billion and its total employment is over 100,000.

National Cash Register produces cash registers, accounting and bookkeeping machines, electronic data processing equipment and a wide variety of business forms including carbonless, multiple copy business forms.

Appleton Coated, founded in 1907, has manufacturing operations and offices at Appleton. It is a specialty coater of paper and nonpaper substrates. Product areas include printing and decorative papers, specialty papers for diverse industrial needs and carbonless paper, which it began producing for NCR in 1953. The firm markets its products through paper merchants across the nation and by direct sale to converters.

In a joint statement, Robert S. Oelman, NCR chairman, and W. A. Siekman, Appleton Coated chairman, said that merger of the two companies' interests should result in additional opportunities for both organizations.

Same Management

If the acquisition is consummated, Appleton Coated would continue to operate under its present management with no major changes in its business and sales practices or internal policies.

NCR made a multi-million dollar acquisition of Combined Paper Mills, Inc., in the spring of 1969.

The firm was acquired through a stock exchange arrangement, which was ratified at the annual meeting of the Combined Paper Mills stockholders a year ago this month.

Combined Paper Mills had been a major supplier of NCR for several years, specializing in no-carbon-required paper for use by NCR. It has plants in Spring, Pa., with about 900 employees.

There were rumors at the time of the acquisition of Combined Paper Mills that NCR was wooing another locally owned paper company.

Motorist Injured in State 76 Accident

A Tuesday morning accident on State 76, about three miles northwest of Appleton, brought minor injuries for John J. Burske, 47, Milwaukee, Outagamie County traffic officers said Burske was passing an auto traveling northwest on State 76 driven by Thomas W. Fritsch, 20, 935 Mayer St., Menasha, when the Fritsch car turned into his lane.

Buckley Wants City Out of Joint Project Proposes End to Safety Building

Mayor George Buckley today convinced municipal clerks and finance officers that he is opposed to all wars rather than any particular war; that his beliefs stem from the thoughts of "other wise men" and some "system of belief," and that they come out of some rigorous kind of training.

The draft director, former Lawrence University president, also was quoted as saying, "The thing that worries me is the difficult decisions that have to be made by local boards."

Smith does not believe the new ruling will make the local board's decisions more difficult, since it has been applying the Tarr guidelines already.

But he added that status as a conscientious objector is "hard to determine by the board and hard to claim by the registrant."

Smith said requests for deferment as conscientious objectors have been stepped up in the past several months, coinciding with the activities of local draft resistance efforts led by a group at Lawrence.

He said lately requests for such deferments number "10 or so a month," but most are dropped. "We have maybe one or two that we actually have to evaluate, each month," he said.

"I think it must be eight or so we have granted in the last couple of years," he added. The local draft resistance group recently claimed the local board has granted two deferments to conscientious objectors and called the local board "the most recalcitrant in the entire nation."

Smith said he dislikes talking statistics on deferments in comparison between different boards may not necessarily be relevant.

3-Year-Old Struck By Slow Moving Car Suffers Minor Injury

Kory J. Schumacher, 3, 1340 W. Capitol Drive, was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital late Tuesday afternoon after he was struck by a car in a parking lot in the 1900 block of N. Richmond Street.

The child suffered a back, Smith commented. "In my scrape and head bump when an auto driven by Rosemary Stoffel, 42, 912 W. Parkway Blvd., hit him as he darted into its path. The Stoffel woman told Appleton police she didn't see the boy until he was in front of the car.

She was traveling slowly at the time, police said.

Quick Action Is Needed at Ball Diamonds Langedyke Park Facilities Face Tight Timetable

Time is running short for the Park and Recreation Commission to prepare baseball facilities at Langedyke Park to replace diamonds being lost elsewhere in the city at the end of this season.

Public Works Director Robert Miller met with commissioners Tuesday and was told a road must be built into the park and the diamonds themselves prepared and planted in sod by the end of August.

After Miller outlined the planning and procedural steps required to carry out the work, Commission Chairman Ralph Gertsch remarked, "It will be August before we get through the red tape."

Land is in the process of being purchased to provide access from Ballard Road into the 108-acre park site along what will become Park Drive.

Miller said the Board of Public Works and then the City Council must release funds budgeted for the road building, and the layout of the baseball area must be put in final form on paper before his department can start construction.

The road is only to be graded and graveled and the work could be stretched out until next spring, commissioners said.

But, the baseball facilities must be planted in sod before the first frost if it is to survive the winter, and that means backstops, lights and ground preparations must be completed first, to avoid damage to the fresh grass from men and equipment.

Meanwhile, the commission plan for the baseball complex, a four-diamond cloverleaf arrangement, is awaiting final approval by city and Board of Education officials.

Miller said his department will go into action as soon as the layout and the funds are ready.

Controversy Boils On Kaukauna Aldermen OK New Option for Landfill Site

KAUKAUNA—An effort by home. Rogers said he had changed his mind.

He added that piping for the 70-acre site could raise the cost of that property to almost $2,000 per acre.

Several Motions Made

Ald. Jerry Klarer (4th) said the committee studying landfill sites should be permitted to secure an option on that portion of the 38-acre farm not included in the floodplain area with the understanding that the cost would not exceed $1,000 acre for useable land. His motion failed to receive a second.

Ald. James McDaniel (3rd) then amended Rogers' motion to permit the landfill study committee to secure options on any additional lands considered suitable for such purposes provided the price was within reason and the option did not exceed $100.

At the suggestion of Anderson, he added that, prior to taking this property when it first was considered for this purpose as it options, signed papers be secured from surrounding property owners indicating that they had no objection to use of the site for sanitary landfill purposes.

Ald. Russell Dix (4th) spoke of property which might be available to the northwest of the city in the vicinity of the Victor Haen Elementary School and urged the committee to investigate this site.

McDaniel's motion passed 9-1, with only Rogers dissenting as he accused other aldermen of "putting all your eggs in one basket" and "following a blind man."

Save for Future

Rogers has strongly opposed the 70-acre site because much of the area is wooded and he feels it should remain in its present wildlife state for future generations to appreciate.

Ald. George Simon (3rd) accused Rogers of being unreasonable on his stand on the issue.

Supreme Court Ruling Draft Effect Doubted

The U.S. Supreme Court's ruling this week subtly broadening the definition of conscientious objector should not substantially affect the Outagamie County Draft Board, according to Wendall H. Smith, its chairman.

The new ruling stems from the 1965 United States vs. Seeger case in which the court ruled a man could be classed as a conscientious objector on the basis of overriding principles similar to a religious belief, but did not have to stem from a traditional religion or belief in a god.

"It is hard for me in reading the news releases to see how it (the new ruling) differs from the Supreme Court Seeger Case," Smith said.

National Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr Tuesday issued a preliminary interpretation of the new ruling's meaning for local boards.

Based on Tarr's statements, Smith commented. "In my judgment we have been judging conscientious objector claims substantially in accordance with those guidelines already."

Four Points

Tarr listed four points drawn from the ruling. He said local boards must determine that an objector's belief is sincere: that he is opposed to all wars rather than any particular war; that his beliefs stem from the thoughts of "other wise men" and some "system of belief," and that they come out of some rigorous kind of training.

The draft director, former Lawrence University president, also was quoted as saying, "The thing that worries me is the difficult decisions that have to be made by local boards."

Smith does not believe the new ruling will make the local board's decisions more difficult, since it has been applying the Tarr guidelines already.

But he added that status as a conscientious objector is "hard to determine by the board and hard to claim by the registrant."

Smith said requests for deferment as conscientious objectors have been stepped up in the past several months, coinciding with the activities of local draft resistance efforts led by a group at Lawrence.

He said lately requests for such deferments number "10 or so a month," but most are dropped. "We have maybe one or two that we actually have to evaluate, each month," he said.

"I think it must be eight or so we have granted in the last couple of years," he added. The local draft resistance group recently claimed the local board has granted two deferments to conscientious objectors and called the local board "the most recalcitrant in the entire nation."

Smith said he dislikes talking statistics on deferments in comparison between different boards may not necessarily be relevant.

A Short-Lived Youthful protest on the campus of Appleton High School-West died peacefully Monday afternoon after neighborhood children had put up a sign opposing the planting of trees on land which they had used for sandlot baseball games. The land was at the front of the school. Principal Jerome Boettcher met with the youngsters' parents, pointing out the availability of three diamonds on the athletic field and explaining that the trees were among the first to be planted at the school in 20 years. ## No Action on Applications

CATV Installation Inspection Trips Defended

Questions about trips to inspect community antenna television (CATV) systems in other communities prompted a statement of the position of the City Council's Welfare and Ordinance Committee Tuesday night.

The subject arose at the beginning and at the end of a three-hour session, during which the committee originally was to hear presentations by eight firms which had submitted applications for a CATV franchise in Appleton.

No action was taken on the applications, meaning at least a two-week delay in the matter reaching the council, which will have to act upon a recommendation by the committee.

Ald. Edward Maloney (9th), chairman of the committee, said that some members of the committee went to Beloit to inspect a cable television system there and "there was nothing secretive about it."

"We're more familiar with cable TV" as a result of the trip, he added. "If anyone else would have approached us, we would have gone."

The question came up again at the end of the session, when representatives of some companies which had remained in the nearby council chambers were invited into the committee room by Maloney.

He told representatives of Fox Valley Cablevision, a cooperative venture of The Journal Co. of Milwaukee and Cable Constructors, Inc., Iron Mountain, Mich., that "you people have the same option" to offer to show the committee an example of its product.

The councilmen who went to Beloit viewed an operation which was constructed by Cable Constructors, Inc., but now is being operated by American Television and Communications Corp., Denver, Colo., a group associated with Fox Cities Communications, Inc., Appleton, another applicant.

"We didn't feel there was anything wrong with it (the trip)," Maloney said. "We're willing to go to any installation."

He later said the committee's position could be described as not seeking trips to view cable television systems but not turning them down, either.

Six Applicants

Presentations were made before the committee by four applicants, since two have withdrawn, one did not appear and another said it would not be able to appear but had not

Menasha's Bridge Referendum Sept. 8

MENASHA — It took a little haggling, but the common council approved two resolutions Tuesday aimed at getting a bridge over Little Lake Butte des Morts in the area of Ninth Street.

The first resolution called for an advisory referendum on Sept. 8 asking if city voters would like to see $700,000 of city funds appropriated "for a bridge to cross Little Lake Butte des Morts in the Ninth Street area."

The second resolution tells the Winnebago County Board of Supervisors that the council will "urge adoption" of the Sept. 8 referendum and asks the board to "commit county funds for Little Lake Butte des Morts Bridge construction and the proposed Tri-County Expressway right-of-way."

Both resolutions passed unanimously. Most discussion was over wording of the resolutions. The next crucial step in the search for a Ninth Street area bridge will be next Tuesday's meeting of the board of supervisors, when bond issues totaling over $5 million will be considered.

The bridge will be among the items to be bonded for. A resolution asking $18 million bond issue will be presented (to go along with the $700,000 from the city and $500,000 from the town for the $3 million span).

"Good!" was Mayor James Adams' reaction to the council action Tuesday. "We're on the way now."

Adams said he will be at the June 23 county board meeting "as a spectator" to see what happens with the bridge bonding proposal.

"It kind of amazes me," was Town of Menasha Chairman Roland Kamp's reaction to the unanimous common council approval of the resolutions Tuesday. Kamp and Adams have teamed up to push for construction of the bridge. Both believe it is crucial to future development of the area.

"I think the aldermen in the city are realizing that they have a traffic bottleneck in the city" and that "a bridge is needed" to remedy it, Kamp said.

No Problem
Kamp foresees no problem in getting the $18 million bonding proposal passed by the county board.

"They've gone on record in favor of the bridge," he said.

The referendum — although it will delay final action on commitment of city funds for the bridge past the Sept. 8 primary date — will not create a problem, Kamp believes.

"I think the people will vote for it," he said. "They've been talking about it for 30 years, and they want to get that traffic bottleneck out of Menasha."

The issue has prompted a rare kind of cooperation between the city and town recently. Adams was asked today if he would also seek the aid of Neenah in promoting the project.

Neenah Support
"I haven't said a thing to them," he said today, but then added he "might approach them soon, maybe today," to ask for their support.

He said, "I hope we're going to get" the support of Neenah county supervisors on the bonding proposal.

"We're talking about mutual aid and cooperation now, so I would hope we would get their support on this issue," he said, adding that a bridge would aid Neenah traffic conditions.

Third Ward Ald. Sumner Parker, who strongly backs the bridge as a way to attract industry and other economic benefits to the city, said that a $20-year bond issue to finance the $700,000 appropriation would mean about $80,000 additional tax levy in 1971. That's about $1.33 per $1,000 of assessed valuation on the tax rate for a bond issue with an interest rate of 6 1/2 per cent.

If the total $5 million bonding package is approved by the county, the city will add another $80,000 to the tax levy, Parker noted. That would be another $1.50 on the tax rate.

That would be a total of about $2.80 on the tax rate.

New Industry
But Parker said the tax expenditures could be offset by new industry that would be enticed to locate in the city's northern industrial land if the bridge is constructed.

Parker noted that in the past, he has predicted that the city already faces an "automatic" tax rate increase of up to $7 in 1971.

"I won't retract that statement now," he said, but added that it would "be there no matter what we do."

Increase Tax Base
He said the only way to "affect" the tax rate would be to reduce expenditures or increase the tax base.

"In general, I think this body has done a good job of keeping the frills" out of spending, he said, implying the latter alternative is the best.

He said at least two industries (one recently and one in the past) have moved out of town because of the poor access the city has to major highways like U.S. 41.

He was probably referring to Menasha Corporation and Menasha Wood Split Pulley Co., which all generations must dedicate their efforts.

But he would not specify.

Those participating in Students To Oppose Pollution program will investigate and document air and water pollution complaints received from citizens across the state.

"It is only right that youth be called upon to participate in the preservation of our Wisconsin heritage," Warren said in a statement discussing the program which began Monday.

"This is a critical problem to which all generations must dedicate their efforts," but he would not specify.

Apart From Voting Rights Act Steiger Backs Vote for 18-Year-Olds

WASHINGTON — Sixth District Rep. William A. Steiger voting today he will vote favorably on a bill to extend the 1965 Voting Rights Act and lower the voting age to 18, but he wants the questions considered separately.

The House is scheduled to vote this week on a Senate-passed extension of the Voting Rights Act which includes an amendment lowering the voting age to 18.

Independent
That amendment does not belong in the bill because the voting rights act and the voting age rider "should be considered independently" on their own merits, and because "there is doubt about the constitutionality of any Congressional attempt to change the voting age by statute," Steiger said in his weekly report.

But if the House refuses to vote to separate the two questions, "I will vote 'aye' because the voting rights bill needs to be passed, and I can but hope for prompt court action to judge the constitutionality of Congress' acting on the voting age by statute," Steiger said.

Voting Rights
The Voting Rights bill would extend the 1965 act which sent federal voting registrars into five southern states and parts of two others, resulting in the extension of voting rights to almost one million blacks.

The right to vote has been called the "perservative of all rights," Steiger observed.

"There is no greater privilege or duty for an American citizen than to participate in the electoral process. Throughout our nation's history, we have enlarged the number of citizens eligible to vote," Steiger said in support of the voting rights bill.

'Keenly Aware'
Speaking favorably toward lowering the voting age, the Republican congressman said, "young people can intelligently participate as voters. Most are keenly aware and interested in the world around them and are anxious to participate in the formulation of governmental policy through the traditional tool of the ballot box."

"In our country, 18-year-olds are considered adults. They are accountable for their actions. Most may sue and be sued. Many of those in the age group 18 to 21 are working, raising families, paying taxes and leading productive lives," Steiger added.

Some of the Senators who rights bill, which they want to tack the 18-year-old defeated rider onto the voting rights bill.

Steiger admitted the constitutional amendment process moves to lower the voting age would be "tedious" — it would require ratification by three-fourths of the states in addition to Congressional action.

But, said Steiger, Congress should not lower the voting age by statute because "Congressional integrity requires an amendment to the Constitution."

Oshkosh Dealer Sues Chrysler for Fraud

OSHKOSH—The president of Oshkosh, Wis., has filed suit for $1 million against Chrysler Corp. in U.S. District Court, Milwaukee, Judge Robert Tehan has set an initial hearing for July 9 to show cause in the claims of fraudulent conduct.

Thomas Montgomery, 2192 Vinland Road, has charged that employees of Chrysler Credit Corp., a subsidiary of Chrysler, coerced him into allowing the company take-over. The employees threatened Montgomery with arrest if he did not permit the takeover, the suit charges.

Fox Valley Dodge, 2880 Jackson Drive Road, has been closed since early May when Chrysler Credit started to take inventory, according to Montgomery.

The fraud began, the suit claims, in March, 1969, when Montgomery was told he needed $50,000 more operating capital in order to enter into a floor plan agreement with Chrysler Credit. He said he borrowed the money.

Montgomery claims Chrysler Credit said he could operate "out of trust," instead of using normal floor plan procedures to pay the credit organization back throughout the Northeastern region.

An inventory and analysis of he sold each car. Two employees of Chrysler Credit told Montgomery on May 7 that they were closing his business. "Defendant's agents well knew or should have known that plaintiffs were in the custom of selling automobiles 'out of trust,'" the suit charges.

Worker From Green Bay Died Of Natural Cause

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP)—A pathologist report indicates Robert L. Aaron, 25, of the Neelyville, Mo., area died of apparent natural causes June 8, the Butler County coroner said Tuesday.

Aaron was found June 8 lying in a ditch in extreme southern Butler County. Authorities believed earlier he was killed by a blow to the head.

Aaron was last seen alive in a tavern near the Missouri-Arkansas border on U.S. Highway 67, shortly after returning from Green Bay, Wis., where he was employed.

Coroner Larry Cottrell said the report indicated Aaron died of a massive brain hemorrhage. An investigation continued into how Aaron got into the ditch.

Youth Corps Organized To Investigate Pollution

MADISON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert Warren's student program to identify and halt polluters has begun with 22 young people hired as part of the Justice Department's summer intern program.

Those participating in Students To Oppose Pollution program will investigate and document air and water pollution complaints received from citizens across the state.

"It is only right that youth be called upon to participate in the preservation of our Wisconsin heritage," Warren said in a statement discussing the program which began Monday.

"This is a critical problem to which all generations must dedicate their efforts," but he would not specify.

Violence Inevitable, Say Appleton UW Students

BY GERALD KAREY
University of Wisconsin

MADISON — For four Appleton natives, now students at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, the campus violence the week of May 4 was inevitable.

It was, in many respects, the only response left to the many who had tried but failed to get their government to respond to peaceful dissent.

Cheryl Mattson, 1913 W. Glen Dale Ave., put it this way: "This country participates in violence on an indiscriminate level—you can't condemn rock-throwing on State Street (Madison) and remain silent about napalm in Vietnam."

"Non-violence is everybody's responsibility," Natural Product

Mark Jankowski of 607 E. Pershing St. felt violent protest was a natural product of frustration and lack of response.

"The system can ignore peaceful protest. Students have tried peaceful means. What did it get them? How do you measure the effects of peaceful protest against the President's invasion of Cambodia?"

While none of the students saw violence as the alternative to indifference and public apathy, they also refused to condemn student violence while condoning military violence in Indo-China.

The students felt that most violence is counter-productive. But the violence that followed President Nixon's Cambodian announcement was seen quite differently.

They remembered the President's response to the November protest. Thousands gathered to peacefully protest while the President watched a football game.

President Talks
However, following the death of four Kent State students and the campus violence that swept the nation, the President finally responded by talking with the protesters.

Students see a valuable object lesson in the President's response. Violence demands attention.

But they also see violence as a polarizer widening the gap between generations. William Whitehead of 1624 Orchard Drive said it was too easy for the public to view campus demonstrators as "bums" spoiling for trouble. "Too often, the banner headlines miss the focus of dissent. Our protest in concerned and real."

"We're worried about racism, war and poverty," Generation Gap

Paul Whitehead, William's brother, pointed to the "generation gap" as a barrier to understanding.

Paul felt that he and his friends were already "involved" but worries about making their views known to the larger community.

Both brothers said that students have done a poor job of communicating their ideas to their hometowns.

"We must get out and talk to people. We need Appletonians behind us. The crises are national concerns—the campus has only provided a forum to discuss them. We spend too much time talking to other students who agree with us."

The students feel that real communication is the answer. For them protest spotlights the problem, but it is the communication that follows that provides solutions.

Waiting Expectantly for takeoff time Sunday, Peter Abraham, 119 N. Rankin St., was one of a group of 15 boys, ages 8 to 15, going to Camp Nan-A-Bo-Sho in Lakewood. They will return Saturday. The campers are sponsored by the Schlitz Brewing Co., which is sending 67 boys to camp this summer. Some who are handicapped or retarded will go to a camp with special facilities. Still others will go to Gardner's Dam, near Boulder. The project is coordinated in the Valley by the Juvenile Bureau of the Appleton Police Department.

Planner Issues Challenge Bus Line Change' Confusing'

The transportation planner for the Fox Valley Council of Governments has questioned the Public Service Commission on its recent order permitting Fox River Bus Lines to transfer Appleton bus routes to a subsidiary company.

Jerome D. Starling, in a letter to James G. Lawrence, PSC examiner who conducted hearings on the bus company proposal a month ago, said he is "somewhat confused" by the description of routes given in the PSC order.

He said the PSC order apparently allows for the transfer of only half the bus company's Grand Chute-to-Kimberly inter-urban route to the new subsidiary, Appleton City Transit, Inc.

Starling suggested it would be "both impractical and illogical" to assign the portion of the route lying in Grand Chute to the new firm and retain the eastern portion in the parent firm's control, which Starling said the orders seem to suggest.

He also asked whether the inter-urban buses would continue to operate with an "open door policy" on the portion of the route inside Appleton. If they do, Starling said it would mean inter-urban buses would pick up and discharge passengers within Appleton as under the original arrangement, "and thus compete to some extent with the six city routes" which are assigned to the new firm.

He also questioned the use of the term "inter-urban" for routes passing between Appleton and the Kimberly-Little Chute area and to Neenah - Menasha. He pointed out that Kimberly and the towns of Grand Chute and Menasha adjoin Appleton, and the PSC defines service to adjoining communities as "urban" rather than "inter-urban."

The parent firm proposed assigning portions of its business within Appleton to the new firm to coincide with proposed city subsidies. Company officers reasoned that the subsidy could be applied strictly for bus service inside the city more easily if the routes were underbased on May operating losses separate bookkeeping systems, listed at $3,034 during that month. At present, the city is considering making a temporary subsidy permanent.

Meanwhile, the bus company, which has submitted a claim for second $3,000 subsidy payment up to $3,000.

Council Can't Agree on Site

Kloehn (2nd) to change council procedure which would have the mayor call for old or new business to be heard prior to asking for adjournment was approved, but not until McDaniel made his feelings known.

Kloehn's motion stemmed from an incident at the last council meeting in which some aldermen attempted to adjourn the session without hearing from some people in the audience who attended the session thinking discussion was to be held on the 70-acre sanitary landfill site.

Three Persons Taken To Hospital After Collision on Tuesday

Three persons were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital about mid-afternoon Tuesday after being hurt in an accident on Outagamie County Transit CE at Marcella Street.

The three were passengers in an auto driven by Frank J. Roehl, 84, 35 Weiner Court, Katherine Roehl, 75, 1812 E. John St., received bruises to the right elbow and leg George Roehl, 74, of the same address, suffered pain to the right shoulder and side. Jennie Williams, 70, 1930 E. John St., also complained of pain to the right shoulder.

County traffic officers said that Roehl, eastbound on CE, was attempting to make a left turn onto Marcella when his car collided with a westbound car driven by Edward R. Perso, 61, be applied strictly for bus service inside the city more withdrawn its application. Appearing were Fox Cities Communication, Inc.; Fox Valley Cablevision; Marcus CATV Corp., Milwaukee; and TeleCable Corp., Norfolk, Va.

Appleton CATV, Inc., Appleton, indicated it still was interested but could not make a presentation at the time to the committee. Representatives of Midwest CATV Corp., Menominee, Mich., did not appear.

Total Radio, Inc., Appleton, and Continental Cablevision, Inc., Boston, Mass., have withdrawn their applications.

"Local origination" was the keyword for the four presentations heard. Firms emphasized the ability of CATV to provide Appleton with several channels which could be used exclusively for visual checking of weather information or televising a national wire service news teletype on closed circuit educational programming for schools.

In addition, all presentations proposed that one channel be devoted to coverage of local political, social and sports events.

Attorneys Robert Bachman and Franklin Nehs made a preliminary appearance before the committee in which they refuted a story appearing in the Tuesday edition of an Oshkosh newspaper which attributed to Bachman charges that attempts had been made to influence voting on the franchise.

No Statement Made Bachman, who represents Fox Valley Cablevision, told

McDaniel stated, "Had I known an outsider, Bubolz, referring to Northeastern Wisconsin Planning Commission Chairman Gordon Bubolz who spoke against the 70-acre site, was going to take the floor and speak for 20 minutes during which time he said nothing, I would have left the room."

He asked that an agenda be posted so aldermen knew what to expect prior to council sessions.

Initial Test Borings While the controversy over the 70-acre site continued, Anderson received word that initial test borings on the site meet state requirements as to depth for sanitary landfill use.

Solid rock base was hit 127 feet below ground level in the area of the initial boring, the mayor said, but added that state requirements call for borings every few acres. Therefore, although the initial test is encouraging, it will not be final.

"This is just one of 28 separate requirements which must be met before state approval is given," Anderson said.

No final action on the site is expected by the city until the state either approves or disapproves the property for sanitary landfill.

Opposition to the site is led by Rogers and Bubolz, who argue that it is a valuable natural resource area.

Proponents of the site point out that since it is immediately adjacent to the city, it could be annexed and the city would not need Town of Buchanan approval for its use. They also claim that sanitary landfill is the only logical solution to the problem of solid waste disposal.

Industry Ignoring Problems Of Drugs, State Council Told

essary to prevent legal problems, he said.

"Industry would like to hide its head in the sand and pretend that the problems are there," said Ray. "But somebody has to get to these people," he said of drug abusers.

Employees Discharged Treatment and educational facilities for such purposes for industry are almost totally lacking in Wisconsin, he told the commission.

Industrial drug abuse problems are largest on the two coasts, and are probably quite moderate as yet outside of urban centers of Wisconsin, he who heads a regent committee on the subject.

But the problem is major, he said. One New York firm dis- charged about 80 of its 20,000 employees for drug abuse problems last year, he said.

The commission also heard from UW Regent Walter Renk of Sun Prairie on drug abuse problems on the Madison campus.

One Madison police official told him that the UW problem is as bad as any collegiate drug problem in the nation, and that arrest of two narcotics pushers in a UW dormitory was regarded as a major breakthrough in stemming hard drug sales around the campus. There are an estimated 50 hard drug addicts in the campus community, he said.

Boy With Scalp Cut Is Taken to Hospital

Jeffrey Lamers, 9, route 4, Appleton, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by Gold Cross ambulance this morning after suffering a scalp cut while performing a household chore. An ambulance attendant said the boy was placing a storm window into an attic storage window in the garage when the window shattered, showering his head with glass.

Area Girls Get Municipal Posts At Badger State

MADISON—Three Fox Cities girls attending Badger Girls State here this week have been elected to municipal posts. Teresa Janssen, Little Chute, was chosen alderman for the city of Ashley; and for the city of Tamarack, Barbara S. Smith, Kaukauna; Alderman, and Carol M. Weyenberg, Kimberly, supervisor. They are among 500 girls from throughout the state, including many from the Fox Valley, to attend the session on state government. The week-long study of government is sponsored annually by the University Extension of the Wisconsin Department of the American Legion Auxiliary.

This newspaper is proud to continue the policy of making American flag kits available at nominal cost and as a convenience to our readers. We believe that the American flag should be displayed where possible and as often as practical — and most assuredly on national observances — and that such display is not necessarily a symbol of bigotry nor a cover up for the insincere patriot; indeed, we would deplore this kind of hypocrisy and desecration of our flag.

We are happy to announce that the suppliers from whom we receive the American flag kits have made it possible for The Post-Crescent to supply — free — a large, full-colored wall display of the United States which graphically shows the historic growth of our nation and its flag. The "maps" are being distributed to elementary and junior high school classrooms only.

Stop by our offices in Appleton, Neenah or Oshkosh for your flag or use the attached mailing form.

Schools desiring these display "maps" which have not received them are asked to contact the promotion department of The Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wis. 54911.

To See State Patrols

MADISON — There are times when a motorist is happy to see red lights flashing in the rear-view mirror, according to reports filed by Wisconsin State Patrol troopers.

In fact, during a recent 48-hour weekend there were more than 330 motorists who were glad to see the red lights of a patrol squad car pull up behind them.

These cases were what the patrol refers to as "motorist assists," and they involve protecting stalled vehicles, providing information on a wild array of subjects, summoning help, pumping gasoline into a dry tank, pouring water into an overheated radiator, helping with mechanical problems.

Three Persons Are Hospitalized After Accident

HORTONVILLE — Three persons went to Appleton Memorial Hospital Monday afternoon after a two-car accident a mile south of here on U.S. 45 at Manley Road.

Mrs. Lois C. Bechard, 28, route 1, Appleton, was cut above the right eye and suffered cuts and bruises to her arms and legs. Her son, Scott, 8, received two broken legs, bumps and bruises, and the car instead to a nearby hospital.

One trooper provided escort and guidance to get a sick baby to a hospital.

Some problems call for unusual action. One trooper used his coat hanger to help wire a muffler tailpipe back on a car. Another trooper solved a motorist's worries about an engine dipstick by simply pushing the dipstick firmly back in place.

With thousands of hours of motorist assists behind them, troopers suggest that drivers carry tools for changing tires, fan belts, radiator hoses and gas gauges frequently, because these seem to cause the most problems.

UAW Chiefs Give Lucey Endorsement

MILWAUKEE (AP) — An executive branch of the United Auto Workers endorsed Patrick J. Lucey for governor Monday, and selected State Sen. Martin J. Schreiber as its preference for lieutenant governor.

Lucey, a former lieutenant governor, is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor. Schreiber is one of several candidates competing for the party's lieutenant governor nomination.

The endorsements were made by the executive board of the union's Community Action Program, which also endorsed Democrat Thomas M. Jacobsen for attorney general in the November elections.

Harvey H. Kitzman, chairman of the state board, said the union's executives decided not to endorse candidates for treasurer and secretary of state because they feel those jobs should be under civil service rather than elective.

The board had earlier endorsed Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., for re-election, and Democratic congressmen Henry Reuss, Robert Kastenmeier and Clement J. Zablocki.

The action by UAW executives Monday concerning Lucey was swiftly challenged by Donald O. Peterson, a founder of the New Democratic Coalition who is bidding in the September primary for the Democrats' gubernatorial nomination.

"Forced institutional support from the top, whether in a political party or a union, is undemocratic," Peterson said.

The Wisconsin UAW estimates it represents 45,000 members.

Burglar Is Given 5-Year Sentence

Five years in Green Bay Reformatory were ordered Wednesday morning for a 25-year-old Milwaukee man guilty of burglary.

In ordering the sentence for Martin Huspek, Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer said he felt that the term would aid in the man's recovery, citing his prior criminal involvement.

Huspek was charged with burglary April 26 after he took a church envelope containing $3 from the home of Michael Kettner, 1419 N. Wayne St.

Huspek, who appeared this morning in County Court Branch 2, previously pleaded guilty to the charge. He had been requested to undergo a 60-day mental examination at the Central State Hospital during a prior court appearance.

Regional Historians Focus on Twin Cities

NEENAH — The history of the area for 32 years of the Doty Neenah-Menasha was the focal Cabin Museum, presented an point of the program for 60 overview of Neenah history at representatives of historical so the afternoon session. He cities in the Winnebago land brought out the importance of unit of the Wisconsin Council of the Fox River as a waterway. Local History in convention highway and the security of Saturday at the Neenah-Menasha what became known as Doty's Y.M.C.A.

Highlight of the morning was a bus tour of historical sites in the Twin Cities with William Herziger and Harvey Leaman narrating. Two busloads of his- torians visited the locks of the U.S. Government canal, the Doty Cabin Museum in Doty Park and viewed the panther Indian mounds believed to date back to 900 A.D. in Smith Park. Other historical sites were dis- cussed and pointed out en route. Leaman, recently retired cur-Island to the Winnebago Indians who built one of their important stockaded villages there. He noted the Menominee people on the mainland and the govern- ment's attempt to establish a community training center for them at Winnebago Rapids in the 1820s and early 1830s.

He discussed the early con- nections with Neenah and Men- ashah of Curtis and Harrison Reed (1843), Harvey Jones of Gloversville, N.Y., and the pur- chase of the island in 1835 by James Duane Doty, Wisconsin's territorial governor from 1840 to 1844.

Reports were presented by Mrs. Elmer Baker, Fond du Lac County Historical Society, which operates and maintains the Gal- loway Village Museum on Pio- neer Road; Abel Meisner, Ber- gion Historical Society, owners of a pioneer schoolhouse now in Riverside Park; Giles Clark, Menasha Historical Society; Mrs. Marjorie Gunn, Neenah Historical Society; Herbert H. Helble, Outagamie County His- torical Society; George Miller, Rippon Historical Society, which currently is restoring a resi- dence as a museum with the aid of other community groups; Mrs. James Cappert, Winne- conne Historical Society, which maintains its headquarters and museums in a former Chicago North Western Railway Depot in the new Arthur Marble Park.

Upcoming events noted by the various societies include the annual Strawberry Festival on Aug. 16 and the dedication of an 1890 print shop Aug. 22 in Riverside Park, Berlin, and the exhibit of the new doll collection at the Winnebago society's museum in Marble Park.

William J. Schreck, Madison, head of the Wisconsin Council of Local History, Wisconsin State Historical Society, gave a brief talk. Earl Tangway, president of the host Neenah Historical Soci- ety, presided at the regional sessions.

Engineer From Egypt on Staff of Plan Commission

An Egyptian chemical engineer has joined the staff of the Northeastern Wisconsin Re- gional Planning Commission to study the use of bulrushes and other aquatic plants in the purification of polluted water.

Mounir Neamatalla, a former exchange student with Appleton High School-West, is participat- ing in summer research and formal course work at the University of Wisconsin under an International Scholarship program.

Neamatalla graduated from West in 1964, worked at Thil- many Paper Co. in the summer of 1966 and received his degree from UW this spring. Regional planners are investigating the pollution control possibilities of water plants, and Neamatalla will contribute his technical knowledge to the studies.

Young Hobby Club
Name Summer Sport to Win 'Talking Globe'

BY CAPPY DICK
Boys and girls! Here's a new chance to win an Encyclopaedia Britannica "Talking Globe." This globe

not only shows you in brilliant colors all the countries, oceans, mountains, major lakes and other geographical features of the earth, but is accompanied by a recording that reproduces for you the sounds of hurricanes, erupting volcanoes, the roaring sea, the blastoff of rockets, the beat of rain and the rumble of earthquakes. Also there is the dramatic "Story of Mr. World" as told in sound by a famous traveler.

Five "Talking Globes" will be awarded as the national grand prizes in today's essay contest, one for each of the five nearest and most original correct entries. Also, there will be 5 local prizes for preliminary winners whose entries will then be considered, along with preliminary winners from all other Young Hobby Club cities, to find the five national grand prize winners.

Winners of local prizes will receive a set of five of the world's smallest tools. Although none are more than one and a quarter inches long, they nevertheless function just like real tools. For example, the tiny scissors and shears will actually cut paper! Furthermore, the tools are made so they can be worn as charms.

To win one of these unusual awards, a contest entry must prove to be one of the 5 neatest and most original correct ones received from boys and girls of the Fox Cities area. The puzzle to be solved requires you to rearrange the eight letters on the balloons in the picture above to spell the name of a popular summertime sport.

When you know what the answer is, clip out the picture, paste it on a piece of paper, print the unscrambled word beneath it, along with your name, age, address and Zip Code number, then decorate the entry in any neat, original way with crayons, paints or cutouts. Finally address it to Cappy Dick's Midweek "Talking Globe" Contest and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Names of the prize winners will be announced here and their awards will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

Tomorrow: How to decorate the handle of a coaster wagon!

Old Friends Gather for Hour of Song

BY TV SCOUT
8-9 Channel 5 — The Kraft Music Hall has Oscar-winner Burt Bacharach as host, with guests Dionne Warwick, Joel Grey, and Sacha Distel. Each of Burt's guests has been closely associated with him at one time. he was Joel Grey's accompanist; he has written songs for Miss Warwick; and he got to know Sacha Distel when he was touring with Marlene Dietrich as her accompanist.

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-7 — Junior Samples, who must be seen to be believed, tells the fish story that took him out of Cumming, Ga. and brought him a hit record. It happens on Hee Haw which also has Sonny James and Tammy Wynette singing. (R)

6:30-8 Channel 5 — Wyoming cattle barons, played by Lee J. Cobb and Ricardo Montalban, face each other over barbed wire in a threatened range war in "The Big Deal" an episode of The Virginian. (R)

7:30-8 Channels 11-9 — Pete Dixon really does have a problem on Room 222. He has met, escorted home and kissed good-night a sophisticated young lady. Only the sophisticated lady is a kid who decides she is going on an all-out campaign to win Pete for her very own. (R)

8-9 Channels 11-9 — Johnny Cash "rides that train" to mining country in a highlight segment of The Johnny Cash Show. Guests are Vikki Carr, Jimmie Rodgers and Jerry Lee Lewis. (R)

9-10 Channel 5 — Then Came Bronson moves to a lonely backwoods area where he finds a wounded puppy and brings him to the local nurse. She is a woman who is the sole medical support for the area, working herself to death, desperately wanting to leave, but unable to desert her patients. (R)

10:30-11:30 Channel 2 — Medical Center has an excellent depiction of the generation and communications gap. The gap separates a rough, calloused, immigrant father (Simon Oakland) and a sensitive, musically inclined teenage son (Richard Thomas). (R)

Rare Minnow Being Protected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — At last there's hope that the western tongue-tied chub minnow may be saved from extinction. The Ohio Division of Wildlife has closed to bait catchers the lower five miles of King's Creek in Champaign County in an effort to save the rare minnow in its last Midwestern stronghold. Wildlife experts say pollution and the lack of good bank cover have caused the disappearance of the minnow elsewhere.

Village of Hortonville To Celebrate Annual Homecoming at Park

HORTONVILLE — The village's 33rd annual homecoming will be staged this weekend at the Commercial Club Park. The event will start Friday evening with the midway concessions and carnival rides opening at reduced rates. Free entertainment, consisting of band concerts, the Fox Valley Soul Singers and professional acts, will be staged both Saturday and Sunday. Dances will be conducted on Saturday and Sunday evenings in the pavilion. A new car, valued at $2,500, will be the grand prize of this year's event. M. R. Sousek, chairman, said the profits from the event are used for the upkeep of the park and other civic activities.

Appleton Band to Play at Music Festival

Soup, an Appleton rock band, is one of over 35 musical acts booked to perform at the People's Fair June 26-28 in Portage County. Some 50,000 persons are expected to attend the fair. Wisconsin's second music festival of 1970. Tickets will be on sale for $10.25 throughout the United States, according to the fair's organizers. Earth Enterprises, Inc., Stevens Point, and Concert Promotions International, Madison. Mail orders can be sent to the People's Fair, P.O. Box 1752, Madison, Wisconsin 53701. All ticket money is guaranteed refundable should the fair be called off, the organizers claim.

Elliott Ness & Company Popular on Tahitian TV

French Language Version of 'Untouchables' Vies With Westerns on 7,500 Home Sets

BY BOR THOMAS
PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP) — who directs the television operation. Robert Stack straps on his shoulder holster, checks his au-tilies will have homes on the automatic and says to his fellow same communal property. So crime fighters: "Allons!" they put their money together. What is Elliott Ness doing in Tahiti? The fact is that "The Untouchables"—the French-language version—has proved to be one of the most popular attractions on Tahitian television. Other American hits have been "Bonanza" and "The Invaders."

The tourist visitor, overwhelmed by the physical attractions of French Polynesia, might consider television as superfluous as snowshoes. But the Good Considering natives appear to love it. Tahitian television, which began in 1964, is now received by 7,500 home sets. That's not far from U.S. standards, but the number is remarkable when you realize that the signal extends only to Papeete population: by the French government-owned ORTF.

Consider also the small ear-plus the opposite shore of Bali Hai-like Moorea, 12 miles away. "This country pays nothing for television," director Suhas says. ### Viewing Limited

Americans would find the local television schedule sparse—it's 3½ hours on weekends and 4½ on week nights, starting at 6:30. Three times a week, science in English, French, science and other education subjects are offered for the youthful audience. The nightly schedule begins with a half-hour of cartoons and serials for the small fry, then the news. Then come variety shows and series, some from the United States but the bulk of them from France. From 15 to 18 per cent of all programming is of local origin.

Strictly for Fathers

POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR
Lillian Mackesy

The Wolf in Chef's Clothing is the mod way to picture the new breed of cooks - the fathers of the family who have taken to the outdoor barbecue in a big way. These men enjoy cooking outdoors on the grill, in the barbecue kettle or on a rotisserie and none need the help of the little woman, thank you.

They like doing it all themselves. Maybe they like a little help in the totin' department or setting the picnic table, but the actual job of cooking is their thing. So, with this in mind, in recognition of Father's Day coming up Sunday, here is a collection of ideas for Fathers Only, picked out especially for that manly touch.

MARINADE FOR ROLLED ROAST COOKED ON SPIT

- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 cup cooking oil
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/2 teaspoon seasoned pepper
- 1 clove garlic minced

Combine ingredients and blend thoroughly. Pour over rolled and tied beef roast (eye of the round, boneless rib or sirloin tip). Let marinate several hours or overnight. Place on rotisserie spit and roast over hot coals, basting frequently with marinade. A 4-pound roast takes about 2 to 3 1/2 hours, depending on desired doneness. Let stand 20 minutes before slicing. A 4-pound roast makes 8 to 10 servings.

BARBECUE FRENCH BREAD

- Toast slices of French bread on grill. Remove and spread with a mixture of 1/2 cup melted butter and 2 teaspoons packaged garlic salad-dressing mix. Keep warm in foil.
- MARINATED STEAK
- 1 round steak about 3 1/2 inches thick
- 1/4 cup Red or Pink Catawba Wine
- 1 cup chili sauce
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1/4 cup oil
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 tablespoon instant minced onion

Place steak in a flat dish. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over steak. Marinate several hours turning often. Remove from marinade and broil over coals to desired doneness.

For rare broil 20 minutes per side; medium takes 25 minutes per side; well done about 30 minutes per side.

YAM-LAMB BARBECUE

- Boiling salted water
- 5 pounds lamb spareribs
- 3 parsley sprigs
- 1 tablespoon instant diced onion or 1 small onion, halved
- 2 cans (24 ounces each) Louisiana yams
- 3/4 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon butter
- Crushed corn chips
- Add enough boiling salted water to cover lamb, parsley and onion in large kettle. Cover and simmer 45 minutes, or until lamb is tender; drain.
- Dram yams, reserving 1 1/2 cups syrup. Combine reserved syrup, orange peel and juice in saucepan, simmer uncovered 10 minutes. Blend cornstarch and tablespoon water; stir into orange mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce boils one minute. Add salt, nutmeg, lemon juice, soy sauce and butter.

Brush spareribs with sauce and place on grill or broiler rack. Cook 4 inches from source of heat 8 minutes, turn and brush again. Place yams on skewers, brush with sauce and broil with spareribs 8 to 10 minutes or until lamb is well browned and yams are hot. Baste frequently with orange sauce. Arrange on platter. Sprinkle crushed corn chips over yams. Serve with remaining sauce and additional corn chips. Recipe makes six servings.

CATAWBA WINE DRESSING

- 1 cup salad oil
- 1/2 cup wine vinegar
- 1/4 cup White Catawba Wine
- 1 1/2 teaspoons worcestershire
- 3 or 4 drops Tabasco
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1/4 teaspoon coarse black pepper
- 1 clove garlic, peeled

Combine all ingredients in a covered pint jar. Shake until well-blended. Let stand several hours to blend flavors. Discard garlic. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Burger-Franks they're called, this new idea combining the hamburger with the traditional picnic frankfurter. Ground beef is molded around the franks, then they are chilled to help keep them that way. Grill over charcoal with a brush-on of a sweet and tangy sauce made by blending jelly with prepared mustard and a browning sauce.

Nuptial Vows Repeated

Stadler-Anderson

OSHKOSH — Married in a 3 p.m. ceremony Saturday at First Baptist Temple were Miss Chrisann Lynn Stadler and Andy William Anderson. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stadler, 1602 N. Oakwood Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson, 1708 Roosevelt Ave.

Maid of honor was Miss Linda Montag. Miss Cathy Anderson, Mrs. Jimmy Stadler and Mrs. Robert Maronn were bridesmaids.

Tom Johnson was best man. Dan Stadler, Jimmy Stadler and Robert Maronn were groomsmen. Randy and Mitchell Bennett shared ushering duties.

Reiml-Wettstein

CHARLESBURG — Nuptial promises were repeated by Miss Patricia Reiml and David Wettstein in a 2 p.m. ceremony Saturday at St. Charles Catholic Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Reiml.

Mrs. Andy Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wettstein, both of route 2, Chilton.

Attending as maid of honor for her sister was Miss Judy Reiml. Bridesmaids were Miss Betty Reiml and Mrs. William Wettstein.

William Wettstein, Manitowoc, was best man for his brother LeRoy Thielman and Ronald Schneider were groomsmen. Ushers were Glenn Reiml and Donald Prosson.

The new Mrs. Wettstein is a senior at Cardinal Stritch College, Milwaukee, where she is majoring in voice and music. Her husband, a senior at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, is a history major.

Miringoff-Kettenhofen

MADISON — Married in a recent ceremony were Miss Judith Ann Miringoff and Michael J. Kettenhofen.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Miringoff, 1540 Palisades Drive, Appleton. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kettenhofen, 402 S. 7th St., Neenah.

Mrs. Kettenhofen received her B. A. degree from the

and is attending Marquette University Dental School. The couple is on a wedding trip to New York.

Mrs. James Douglas Anderson

Barber-Anderson

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Wedding promises were exchanged by Miss Linda Barber and James Douglas Anderson in a candlelight ceremony June 5 at First Congregational Church.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. James W. Barber and Mr. and Mrs. Iver Anderson, 849 E. Byrd St., Appleton.

Miss Margaret Tullis attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Hein and Miss Janice Moore.

Best man, Bryan Anderson, was accompanied by groomsmen, Gordon Williams and Ted Rupp. Guests were seated by John Barber and Steve Heil.

The couple received guests at the Hitching Post Inn before departing for a wedding trip to Denver and St. Louis.

Mr. Anderson is a graduate of the University of Colorado, Boulder.

Smiles, Mostly, Radiate at Fair

Sister Evelyn, Sister Carmela and Gordie Krause take time out from every day concerns to enjoy a twirling ride on the tilt-a-whirl Sunday at the South Side Athletic Club Fair at Telulah Park. Lower left, Leslie Quevillion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Quevillion, nonchalantly prepares for another revolution of the ferris wheel. Lower right, Ronny and Kevin Brown, Little Chute, eagerly anticipate a flip-flop in their tummies as the roller coaster speeds downhill. (Post-Crescent Photos by Mark Bretheim)

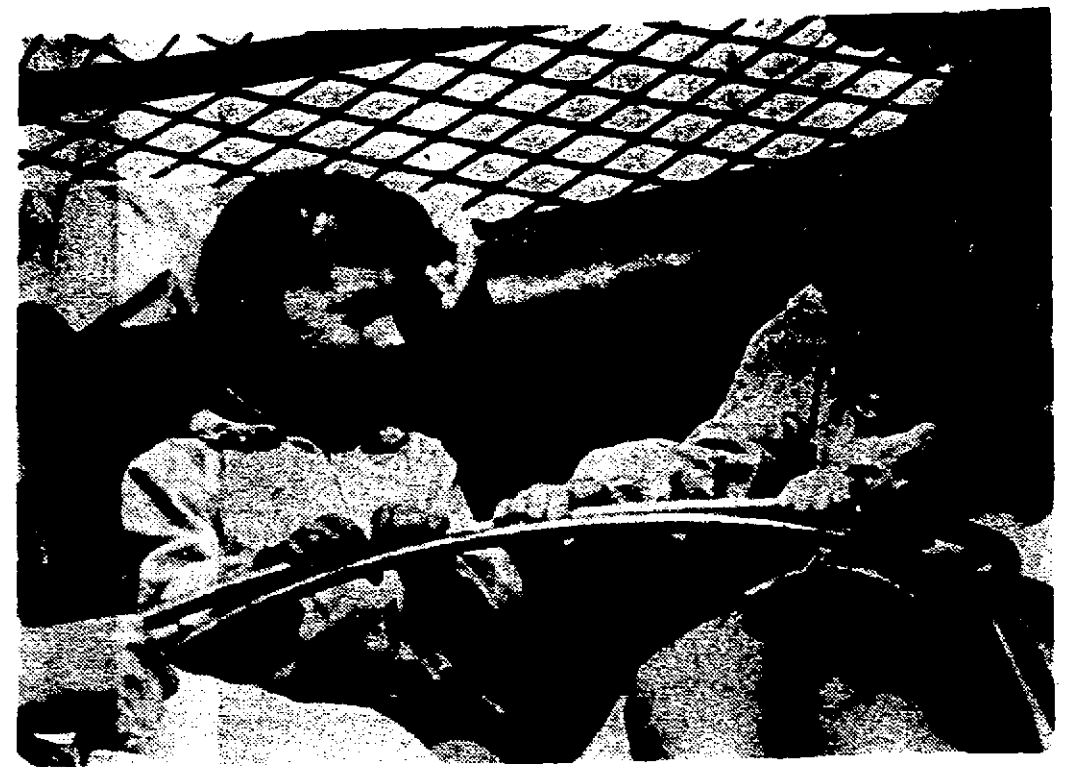

Smiles were the "password" Sunday, showing that just about everybody was having a good time at the South Side Athletic Club Fair. And even the occasional tears were quickly dried by the variety of exciting things to see, smell, taste and hear.

Soft drinks, cotton candy, popcorn and other treats tempted both old and young, as did the tilt-a-whirl, merry-go-round and ferris wheel.

Duane La Budde, president of the club, was chairman of the weekend event which will benefit city athletic programs including Little League, Babe Ruth League, a volleyball team for girls and women and bowling teams.

Things Weren't going quite right for Pat Schumacker, but a treat from Dad, John Schumacker, started him on the road back to a smile.

Pam and Sue Thompson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson, exhibit mixed emotions as they hang on tightly for their whirling ride.

They Deduce 'Miss Virtue' Having Affair

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: A certain woman in our office is such a phony she makes everyone sick. Miss Virtue (as we call her) wears colorless nail polish, sensible shoes, but no bra and no girdle. Get the picture? If anyone says "damn" in her presence, she lowers her eyes and acts offended. This Holier-Than-Thou dame reads dirty books and collects pornography. (We found a few choice items in her desk drawers.) Another gal in this department pointed out that Miss Virtue always wears the same dress on Wednesday that she wore on Tuesday. And on Wednesday her usually perfect hair-do looks like a rat's nest. This means, of course, she has a standing date every Tuesday night with some guy — and she does not sleep at home. Somebody should tip off Miss Virtue that we are on to her, but no one wants to. Will you do the honors?—In the know. Dear In: According to your extraordinary powers of deduction, if a girl wears the same dress to work two days in a row she did not sleep at home. I'd say the evidence is fairly frail, Dearie. Who does your work while you figure all this stuff out? Thanks for letting me know what some office workers do with their time.

Is Father a golf lover?

DEXTER

Men golfers love the light-footed comfort and fashion styling of Dexter golf shoes. This classic wing tip of miracle wiper wear Corfam lets you spend more time on the course and less time caring for your shoes. You'll love 'em.

Neenah Girl Will Attend GS Workshop

Scouting goes international this summer for the Fox River Area Girl Scout Council when Margaret Wilson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilson, Neenah attends "Community Service Through Folk Songs and Folk Games" in New York beginning June 30. Here Margaret will meet Sophia Athanassiadow, of Athens, Greece.

After a three-week workshop, Sophia and Margaret will return to the Fox River Area Council to spend one week on a service project at Winnebago State Hospital. Two more weeks will be spent making new friends.

Margaret is one of 12 Senior Scouts from the United States attending the international event. Since March, she has been preparing for the service project she and Sophia will complete after the workshop.

World wide gatherings are not new to Sophia who has been to England and Holland at International Girl Guide encampments. Seventeen years old, she has hobbies of traveling, sports, reading and Girl Guiding. Because she enjoys working with small children, she has been an assistant to a Brownie team for two years.

During their workshop at Edith Macy Training Center, the girls will share and learn folk songs and games of the countries represented. They will gain experience to help them with the community service project at the hospital. They will also learn how to apply this knowledge in service situations and to develop their needed leadership and teaching skills.

Get Grill Ready

Backyard barbecue time is just around the corner. Don't be caught off guard. Get the grill in good working order now. This calls for a good sudsy scrubbing all over. If repainting is needed, do that next, and then lubricate hinged parts with a few drops of oil. Food won't stick if the rack is rubbed with cooking oil before grilling. Then after each cookout, scour the rack clean.

Parents and Children

By Arnold Arnold

How Social Security Protects Your Child

Children, from birth through college ages, are eligible for monthly benefits if one working parent dies, is disabled or reaches retirement age. This is not charity. Parents pay toward this insurance throughout their working lives. The kids are entitled to it by law.

If you are the guardian or the parent of such a child, you owe it to him and to yourself to inquire at your nearest Social Security Administration office about the various provisions under which children may receive a regular income. Despite the best efforts of the Social Security Administration to alert parents, schools and colleges to this information, many children fail to receive the benefits of the protection their parents earned for them. Even now Social Security funds are the largest single source of college aid for students who qualify and who know when and how to take advantage of it. The following are the main regulations that you should know:

1. If either working parent is unable to work for 12 months or longer because he is disabled at any time before retirement age, or when he (or she) reaches retirement age, then the other parent, and each child below the age of 18, are entitled to an additional monthly payment. Each is equal to one-half of the disabled or retired parent's Social Security benefits. There is a maximum that may be paid to each family. Therefore, if there are more than a given number of children below the age of 18 in your family, no more can be paid out to you.

2. In the case of death of either working parent, all children in the family below the age of 18 (and the mother, if she is the survivor) are entitled to monthly payments, each equal to three-quarters of the Social Security benefits due the deceased.

3. If a child is over 18 (up to the age of 22), if he is a full-time student at an accredited school, and if he qualifies under the conditions described in paragraphs 1 and 2 above, he is entitled to insurance payment benefits identical to those for children below these ages. About a half-million college students are now aided by this provision, to an average amount of $1,000 each per school year.

4. The following is one of the least known Social Security provisions. It applies to all families with a child who suffers from any birth defect, handicap or mental retardation, or one below the age of 18 who falls victim to a lasting injury. Such a child and his mother, as long as she personally cares for him, are each entitled to the same benefits as those detailed in 1. and 2. above, subject to the same qualifications, for as long as the child lives.

Social Security payments are, of course, dependent on the amount of money earned and deposited during the working life of a parent. They are also adjusted, in the case of retirement, if the adult beneficiary has other earned income. But they are not affected by un-return of their insurance payments most, or those of parents who continue to use their hands and brains past retirement ages, are the only ones penalized.

The House Ways and Means Committee is at work on a bill, shortly to be submitted to Congress, that will liberalize a number of provisions in the Social Security law. Let's hope that they do away with some of the inequities. In any event, Social Security protection, marginal though it is, can help you and your child through difficult periods. If you want or need more information on this subject, send your name and address to me, Arnold Arnold, care of this newspaper. I'll see that you receive, free of charge, the authoritative booklet "Social Security Information for the Young Family," prepared by the Social Security Administration.

Nixons Reveal Agenda For Britain's Royal Duo

WASHINGTON (AP)

Plans for next month's three-day visit of Britain's Prince Charles and his sister, Princess Anne, were announced Saturday by the White House.

Charles and Anne were invited to visit Washington by President and Mrs. Nixon's daughters, Tricia and Julie, and the latter's husband, David Eisenhower.

They will arrive July 16 after ending a state visit to Canada with their parents, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

White House Lodgings During the two nights they are in Washington the Prince and the Princess will stay at the White House. Anne will be assigned to the bedroom occupied by her mother and other visiting queens while Charles will occupy the Lincoln Room.

The royal visitors will fly to Washington from Winnipeg, Man., in Air Force One, the presidential jet. Upon arriving they will go directly to the White House to be greeted by President and Mrs. Nixon.

Later, they will go to Camp David, the presidential retreat in the Calocin Mountains in nearby Maryland, for a cook-out. A small group of friends of Tricia and the Eisenhowers will be invited. An evening visit to the Washington Monument will complete the day.

History to Come Alive

The following day's program calls for a visit to the space exhibit at the Smithsonian Institution, a tour of the Capitol, and a cruise down the Potomac River for a tour of Mount Vernon, George Washington's home.

A dinner dance will be held that evening at the White House with several bands to be heard.

On Saturday, the final day of the visit, Charles and Anne will be taken to the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center and later to attend an American League baseball game between the Washington Senators and the California Angels.

THE ACES

ON BRIDGE

TEAM CAPTAIN

Do you know what bridge players argue about? The war in Vietnam? Violence in the streets? Inflation? No, none of these. They argue about whether it is better to open one spade or one heart when holding four spades and five hearts.

Endlessly, over the years, this problem has been debated. The problem, of course, is simply this:

If you have a minimum opening hand with four spades and five hearts and you open one heart and subsequently bid spades, you are "reversing" or showing at least an ace more than a minimum. Conversely, if you open one spade and then bid hearts, your partner will think your spades are longer than, or at least as long as, the hearts.

Some players open with one heart and never even mention the spades with a minimum hand. What do The Aces do?

Ace partners Bob Hamman and Mike Lawrence have solved the dilemma by opening minimum hands that include four spades and five hearts with a specialized opening bid of two hearts. In one bid the responder learns the opener's distribution in the major suits and his point count (12-16).

An example of the two-heart opening follows:

Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ace of clubs.
Hamman, holding the South cards, wasted no time in leaping to four spades, knowing his partner had a fit in that suit. It was a two-way bid. He felt he had a chance to make four spades if the hand fit nicely. Furthermore, his bid would make it impossible for East-West to enter safely if they had the balance of strength.

Observe that East-West are a laydown for five clubs, but West would have to be very brave to make that bid over Hamman's four spade bid.
As it turned out, four spades was a make. Hamman had to lose two spades and a diamond.

In the other room, Aces Bobby Goldman and Billy Eisenberg bid the East-West cards to five clubs, making them when they did not receive the same interference bidding.
No matter how you look at it, this was a colossal success for the two-heart opening, and many players around the country are beginning to use the bid.
Actually, the idea belongs to Bill Flannery of Pittsburgh. However, Flannery opens two diamonds to show five hearts and four spades, while Hamman-Lawrence use the more

The illustration shows your sleeping posture on a mattress that does not have adequate support. The center part of your body can sag down and out of the normal posture position (1) to (2).

Here's SPINAL-GUARD at work providing more support where it's really needed to keep your body in a sleeping posture.

The sections at either end of the extra support area are built for maximum comfort, too. And, in addition, SPINAL-GUARD features the famous King Koil Flex-Edge, non-sag edge construction. It is filled with non-allergenic cushioning and covered with a Sani-Septic, heavy duty fabric hygienically treated to resist germs and bacteria.

The companion box spring unit is specially built to provide the proper firm base for the SPINAL-GUARD mattress. Flex-Edge construction is also used at the center sides of this unit to further re-inforce the critical area.

Wisconsin Cooks Try Their Favorite Chicken Recipes at National Contest

A Milwaukee house wife and a young cook from rural Wisconsin Rapids represented Wisconsin last weekend in the famous annual Delmarva Chicken Festival at Princess Anne, Md.

Mrs. Charles Hill and youthful Kristin Mueske tried their expertise with their creative chicken recipes in the cook-off held in the Maryland State College gymnasium transformed into a huge "kitchen" to accommodate junior and adult cooks from all the 50 states and the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Hill's Chicken a la Sea already had won first place in the Wisconsin adult division of the contest and Kristin's Cel-eriered Chicken Breasts was the state's top junior recipe. That's how they both got to Maryland for the national competition.

The National Chicken Cooking Contest is sponsored by the Delmarva Poultry Industry in conjunction with the National Broiler Council, the nationwide chicken industry organization and Best Foods.

In this year's contest, there were 51 adults and 47 junior cooks. Among the grownups were three lone men but in the junior division, with ages ranging from 8 to 15, there were 16 boys sharing the limelight with 32 budding young imaginative cooks.

Each state contestant participating in the cook-off received $100 and a state winner's trophy. Grand prizes awarded in each of the two divisions ranged from $5,000 for first prize to $1,000 for fourth prize.

Here are the two Wisconsin prize recipes:

CELIERED CHICKEN BREASTS

(Junior Division)

- 6 small whole broiler-fryer chicken breasts
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
- 5 tablespoons margarine, divided
- 5 cups celery, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

2 tablespoons slivered almonds

Mix flour and one teaspoon salt in plastic bag. Add chicken breasts and shake to coat well.

Place chicken in medium shallow baking pan (about 13 x 9 x 2 inches) which has been coated with three tablespoons margarine. Bake, uncovered, in 375 degree oven 20 minutes, turn and bake an additional 20 minutes.

Meanwhile, cook celery for 10 minutes in boiling salted water. Drain. Mix cooked celery, undiluted soup, cheese, almonds and remaining half-teaspoon salt and two tablespoons margarine. Spoon over chicken. Return chicken to oven, reduce temperature to 350 degrees, bake 20 minutes longer. Recipe makes six servings.

CHICKEN A LA SEA

(Senior Division)

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces
- 1/2 cup corn oil
- 1 cup chopped oysters
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup clam and tomato juice
- 1 envelope (.6 ounce) French salad dressing mix

Hot cooked Rice

Heat corn oil in large heavy skillet over medium heat, about 3 minutes. Add chicken and brown on all sides. Mix oysters, salt, clam and tomato juice and salad dressing mix. Pour over chicken and simmer, covered, for about 1 hour, until tender. Serve with hot cooked rice. Recipe makes four servings.

Kristin Mueske, Route 4, Wisconsin Rapids, cooks Celiered Chicken Breasts in the junior division cook-off finals of the 22nd annual National Chicken Cooking Contest in Princess Anne, Md., last weekend. The contest, with finalists from every state in the union, was sponsored by Delmarva Poultry Industry in conjunction with the National Broiler Council and Best Foods, Inc.

WAC Band Promises Women Interesting Life

Debussy's "Claire de Lune," Aaron Copeland's "Billy the Kid," McCartney and Lennon's "Michelle." Regular fare from the Boston Pops? Perhaps. But these are also the sounds of the United States Women's Army Corps (WAC) Band, the sole female military band in existence.

This group currently needs women professionally skilled in the following instrumental positions: flute, clarinet, trumpet, trombone, French horn and tuba. However, applications are always being taken to fill anticipated vacancies, whether the above, triangle or tympanum.

Interested young women with an instrumental background should contact their local Army recruiter. He will arrange for them to tape a performance and send it to the 14th Army Band Headquarters at Fort McClellan, Ala. Or, if they reside near a base with an Army band, an audition can be arranged. Results will be given the applicants as soon as possible.

If found qualified, they must then meet the basic requirements for WAC enlistees. Following eight weeks of basic training at Fort McClellan, they will be assigned to the band. During their three-year tour of duty, they can expect to see every corner of these United States, as the band is in frequent demand for concerts.

Further information on this and other options open to young women in today's Army is available from the Army recruiter.

Cutting Classes for Politics

University of Wisconsin President Harrington is on the record before a committee of the United States Congress as saying that the school will refuse the demands of some students who want the right to leave their classes for an extended period in the fall — two weeks in late October has been mentioned frequently — to permit them to participate in the political campaigns on behalf of causes and candidates they favor.

The president is right. As he put it, the university encourages political participation by students, as does any responsible individual. But to suggest that the most costly institution the people of Wisconsin support with their increasingly high tax payments should in effect close its classroom doors for two weeks is impracticable, unreasonable and absurd.

The students have as much opportunity to participate in the political campaigns if they are serious about their declared intentions as have any other group in the Wisconsin community.

They can indulge their desire for campaign assistance on behalf of favored candidates in their spare time — of which the events of the last several years on the Madison campus suggest that they have in abundance — even as does the workingman, the teacher, the businessman, the farmer, or the high school student, who may also be concerned about the issues that have involved the college and university students in such noisy activism lately.

Any administrative approval of a University recess in the fall for political campaigning by students, almost before they have settled into their semester's work, would inevitably interfere with the orderly continuation of hundreds, perhaps thousands of lectures and class sections, and represent a loss to the people of Wisconsin in wasted faculty and hundreds of thousands, and perhaps millions of dollars. It is conceivable that some classes would be decimated so severely, under such a university imprimatur, that some students would be deprived of the instruction for which they or their parents, not to mention the people of Wisconsin, have paid heavily. It would be a more severe penalty upon the graduate students, whose fees are proportionately higher, and whose cost of instruction to the university budget is also far higher.

There are dozens of ways in which students, like other persons who have daytime duties, can aid the men and the measures that suit their political tastes. If they have the spare money to take to the campaign trail, they can contribute like sums to the candidates or the party of their preference. They can work in the headquarters of the state political parties, conveniently located within a few blocks of the campus in Madison. They can write letters to their friends and other voters in their home districts. They can collect funds for advertising and promotion on behalf of their special political objectives.

But they cannot again close down the university in the name of freedom of expression, denying the equally valid, if not more important, freedom of their classmates to continue the studies for which they enrolled.

'ARE WE BEING SOUTH VIETNAMIZED OR NORTH VIETNAMIZED?'

Taylor Writes
Pusey, Toole Are Refreshing
Voices in Educational World

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

While publicity-minded Yale President Kingman Brewster was pampering student protesters at Yale's Commencement, Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey showed a great deal more sense.

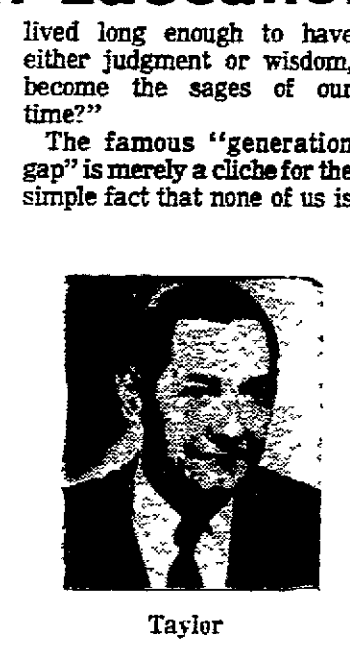

In short, Dr. Pusey said they've got the hair, but do they really have the problems?

Incorporating in his indictment "some faculty members who want to see our universities denigrated, maligned and even shut down," the Harvard president drew accurate parallels with the time-honored Nazi and Red techniques alike. He bluntly stated that in their technique of "Anybody we don't want to hear, nobody's going to hear" they demand that others follow democratic rules which they themselves deny.

Likes Prof. Toole

Meanwhile, an equally refreshing voice came out of the University of Montana. Prof. K. Ross Toole took a look at those youths who seem to feel that youth is a possession — indeed, a kind of actual accomplishment for which the young should be praised.

Dr. Toole asked: "By virtue of what right, by what accomplishment, should thousands of teen-agers, utterly without benefit of having lived long enough to have either judgment or wisdom, become the sages of our time?"

The famous "generation gap" is merely a cliché for the simple fact that none of us is first-rate and to pursue it — not only in the job or profession by which he earns his living — but in all the great fields of life and, above all, in living.

"This institution will be based on the illimitable freedom of the human mind," wrote Thomas Jefferson in founding the University of Virginia. The purpose of education is to teach people to think. This is an enormously difficult task. Education cannot be conducted on the basis of a community sing. Wouldn't even President Brewster acknowledge that a good education cannot be acquired without discipline and the achievement of self-discipline?

No Popularity Contest

Teaching is a profession — a highly specialized and often frustrating profession that requires much longer training than many of the student-oriented young faculty members have had. Teaching is not a popularity contest. Could an airline's passengers successfully choose the pilots? Or could the passengers and pilots, in turn, successfully run the airline?

The forces of destruction are always one short step behind creation. Education is not a weed that will grow in any soil. It is a delicate crop that can easily wilt and degenerate unless properly administered.

Nothing works without management. The duty of management is to manage. In organizations you find good management. You also find bad management, which should be ousted. But the need for responsible management is undeniable.

A university fails as an educational institution whenever trustees, executives, deans and professors duck their responsibilities in the face of phony shouts about "academic freedom" or anything else, or negotiate with lawbreaking demonstrators under a condition of duress.

If the trustees and faculties are muddleheaded about that, what can you expect of the student bodies? Well, you can expect what we are so widely getting and, tragically, it is the student themselves who will suffer the most in later life.

Dissent in the Administration

President Nixon has obviously had some second thoughts about retaining in his Administration family those with a wide variety of views.

The firing of Dr. James Allen as Commissioner of Education and the apparently well substantiated reports that Mr. Nixon would just as soon have Walter Hickel resign as Secretary of the Interior are cases in point. And despite the efforts to infer that Dr. Allen at least had to leave because of poor administrative efficiency, it is clear that his outspoken criticism of the Cambodian move and Mr. Hickel's leaked personal letter to the President requesting a different approach to campus dissenters are the real matters that irked the President.

We can't really blame him. Certainly the President of the United States, like any man in authority, has a right to expect loyalty from the people he has chosen to work with him. Opposition to decisions expressed personally and in private are one thing; news conferences are quite another. The President has several times said that he did not want to be surrounded by yes men but this should not be interpreted to mean public criticism of decisions once they are made.

But it is disturbing that the President apparently has had little contact with such dissenters in his Administration. Things may change now somewhat with Robert Finch in his new position as consultant to the President, but in the past Mr. Nixon seemed to give ear only to the opinions of Attorney General John Mitchell and conservative members of the White House staff. This has not only been disturbing because of the President's decision on sending American troops into Cambodia over what is reported to be the opposition of both the Secretaries of Defense and State whose opinions should have carried considerable weight. The conservative — really the reactionary — advice influenced the slow down on desegregation of schools, the attempt to pretend that campus dissenters to the war hardly existed, and the drawing up of such tough law and order bills that there are wide protests as to constitutional issues from varied sources. Dr. Allen says the President did not contact him before he made his school desegregation speech in April. Mr. Hickel seems to have been by-passed regarding a conference on oil leases. High governmental officials should not be merely window dressing to give the appearance of tolerance of other views.

The outbursts in the nation following the Cambodian move and the campus tragedies did indicate to the President that he was not getting the best information available on the mood in the nation. But if he cleans his house so thoroughly that there are none left except those who share his exact views, he is likely to have more troubles.

Extremists Win in Jordan

King Hussein's capitulation to the Palestine Liberation Organization may have averted civil war in Jordan. But the outlook for the future is not encouraging. Once more the voices of moderation have been hushed and the extremists have won.

There are a number of commando or guerrilla Arab organizations, all of which aim, in varying degrees, at wiping out Israel completely. Many members are refugees who left their homes when Israel was set up and who have been bitterly resenting the situation ever since. None are actually connected with the government of any Arab country although Lebanon made an agreement with at least one organization about the limits of guerrilla activity after a near civil war in the country last spring. But the guerrilla's strength is their ability to arouse the peasants, to inspire more hatred of the Israelis, and thus to put pressure upon reasonably moderate governments, such as that in Jordan, to take firmer stands.

Jordan had prohibited the carrying of arms by guerrilla troops but King Hussein had to back down on that some weeks ago. Now both guerrilla and regular army units are not permitted to carry arms except when on immediate duty in an effort to lower the chances of clashes such as occurred last week. But the King was forced to fire his military commander and several lower ranking officers. Certainly there will be more raids against Israel from Jordan. The belligerence of the governments in Syria and Iraq add to Hussein's problems since they would just as soon come in and pick up the pieces.

The only possible encouragement in the current situation is that it might scare the Soviet Union enough into slowing down its own backing of the Arabs and some of the Russian leaders' inflammatory rhetoric.

10 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, June 15, 1960.

John Cover won the Appleton singles tennis tournament, defeating Dick Pearson. Both boys won the doubles title in defeating Terry Schroeder and John Wiley, runners-up. Cover, Pearson and Brian Brock were to represent Appleton in the Jaycees' state tennis tournament in July.

Eldred Doell, Seymour, won first place in the unclassified division of the National Rifle Association matches held in Appleton. He was the only Fox Cities entry to win any honors.

George Bjornstad, nationally known shooter from Chicago, set two new records at the competition.

Jack Geiger pitched the winning FFW ball game in the Little League season opener, allowing the opposition only six hits.

How many, many generations have said in due course. "I wish I were as smart and knew as much as I thought I knew at 20?" Most who are now young will say the same someday.

Which makes a nation richer, natural resources or education? "Education," says eminent economist Harold F. Clark, "ten to one." He has listed every nation in the world and compared the natural resources — minerals, soil, climate, etc. — with the degree of education. The nations with the most number of educated citizens were incomparably better off.

But what we should remember about education and its institutions in general is the primary meaning of the word "education." It means to "draw out." A fundamental principle of education is to teach the meaning of excellence, the first-rate; to instruct the student that it is his business to learn what is

Wisconsin Report
Governor Is Most Expendable Man in American Politics

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — In a remark that sticks in the memory, the late President Kennedy once told a fund raising audience of Democrats in Wisconsin that the governor of a state has become the most expendable man in American politics.

The observation made such a lasting impression on me because it is so easily demonstrated in the modern history of Wisconsin.

Time after time the elec-

torate has sent to Washington members of the House of Representatives and the United States Senate who were elected and re-elected and re-elected. Not only is a congressional seat in either house typically easier to win than the governorship, but it is demonstrably easier to hold.

Served 24 Years

Sen. Alexander Wiley served 24 years, before he was defeated, partly because of his advanced age, partly because he had the poor luck to encounter the personable and effective campaigner Gaylord Nelson in his last campaign.

No Wisconsin governor has been elected for more than three short terms, for a total of six short years, or the length of a single term as a senator. Wisconsin has had a couple of dozen members of the House of Representatives who served 15, 20, 25 years or more. Governors have sometimes run for a Senate seat, but it is rare that the process is reversed.

The governor has a far higher popular identification. His is the most important office in the whole structure of government of a state. According to his conscience, skill and will, he has a far greater capacity for serving and aiding his constituency, than one senator out of the 100 who compose the upper house of Congress.

It is perhaps for that reason that the office is such a dangerous one to hold. A governor has broad, explicit power. He is constantly in the limelight. He makes decisions daily that are known instantly to those of his constituency who are in the slightest way concerned. A senator or a representative can function at a leisurely pace in Washington, and only occasionally spare a moment's concern for a difficult roll call.

Wonder About Motivations

The sideline sometimes wonders, accordingly, about the motivations of candidates for governor who always seem to be in ample supply.

Why should a man spend heavily, work at a dangerously enervating pace, and patiently build his game plan, so to speak, over a long period, in anticipation of that final bid for the executive office at Madison, when he knows that the chances of being recorded in history as mediocre or unsuccessful are probably as strong as the chance of being listed among the successful heads of the state?

Motives vary with men, but some are common to all. There is the lure of power, more common than may be supposed. There is a craving for the limelight in some cases. Possessing the governorship is a distinction that only a comparative handful of men have had in the history of the state.

Proud in Defeat

I have known men who took a deep pride in the fact that they were nominated for the office, notwithstanding their defeat.

There are men who innately love politics, and politics at the highest level in a state is personified in the operations of the executive office. Sometimes men talk of "drafts" when they recount their political careers. There are sometimes "drafted" mayors, or aldermen, or even state senators. But in an adult lifetime spent in close proximity to the Wisconsin political system, I have not yet observed a genuine gubernatorial draft, although upon occasion the suggestions of friends and associates help to animate innate ambitions.

There is also, happily, the motivation of public service. It is not necessarily incompatible with a desire for power, distinction, and the limelight. Thus, although it has become the most difficult office in American politics below the presidency, it is not likely that there will be a shortage of aspirants in foreseeable time.

Strictly Personal
City Dweller Needs
Taste of Rural Life

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

By the time these lines appear in print, God willing, I shall be leaving for the country, to spend the summer shaking down the cherry trees, sweeping off the tennis court, and tossing rocks out of the lagoon in front of my house.

What we forget, in modern

Harris

To find the kind of seclusion that was so closely available even a generation or two ago, we now must travel hundreds of miles, at considerable expense — and without any guarantee that the blight will not follow us, for the small town seems doomed as a self-sufficient economic unit in industrial America.

Yet I am convinced that the human organism needs both the bracing environment of the city and the soothing atmosphere of the country to maintain its optimum functioning, mentally, physically and socially. The countryman is only part of a man; he misses much of what is important in his own time. The cityman is only part of a man; he misses much of what is permanent and continuous in human experience.

If we had a genuine civilization, based on our deepest personal needs as a species, our society would not be schizophrenic in this way: there would be a delicate balance between the urban and the rustic, so that the hideous hybrid known as the suburb would not have arisen, providing its inhabitants with the most vexing problems of both the city and the country.

Rusticity, as a year-round way of life, makes people soggy; and urbanity makes them brittle. We need each as a counter-vailing force to the other; but our "profress" has merely polarized our lifestyles and driven us further apart while it brings us closer together.

As candidates for First-Class Scouts, we took our 14-miles hike from the inner city — and were camping overnight on the deserted shore of the Des Plaines river. That deserted shore is now one of the fastest-growing suburban areas in the nation.

The urban complex has metastasized through the body of our country with astounding and unprecedented speed, using the new highways as blood vessels carrying this infection as wildly as cancer cells.

Looking Backward
Moonlight Excursion Planned

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for June 9, 1870.

The steamer Island City has been chartered by a party of our citizens who intend to treat themselves to a moonlight excursion upon Lake Winnebago, Thursday next.

The boat will leave the Canal Company's dock at 7 p.m. and return at 12 o'clock (midnight).

Christie's Brass Band has been engaged for the occasion and will furnish delightful music for the participants.

Wednesday, June 12, 1945.

Sgt. Lloyd Stark, Appleton GI, was discharged after serving four years with a Wisconsin medical regiment. He spent more than three years overseas, serving in the East Indies, New Guinea, New Britain and the Philippines. He was with the 31st, 32nd and 33rd divisions on New Guinea and with the 40th and 37th in the landing on Luzon, later going to Bataan to join the 38th and 24th divisions.

Lt. Leslie G. Gebheim, chief steward in the Merchant Marine, arrived from Scotland and was at home with his wife and two children before being transferred to the Pacific. He also visited his parents while in Appleton.

Charles Van Eyck, Little Chute Boy Scout, received the Life Scout award at the court of honor in Doyle Park. Scoutmasters of the troop were Harvey Van Lankvelt and Paul Nallard.

Chi Cheng Is the New Didrickson

Chi Cheng is still tall for a Chinese, fast for a woman. pretty for an athlete, and old for a competitor.

What you're supposed to get out of China is little, doll-like women who giggle excessively, have their feet bound so they can scarcely walk, let alone run, live in walled cities amid rustling silk and tinkling bells, are full of Confucian logic and all look like Madame Butterfly or Luise Rainer in "The Good Earth." We know all about them because of Pearl Buck and Madame Chiang. Human lotus blossoms.

Now, look at Chi Cheng as she breaks from the starting blocks and starts down the track, passing one American Women's Lib after another. Big feet pound the track. Muscles glisten, arms pump, hair flies. Clocks break. Records fall.

A Paper Fan?
A Chinese girl in public in shorts? Wearing shoes with nails in them? Shouldn't she at least carry a paper fan? A veritable Chinese puzzle.

Chi Cheng was born in what was then Formosa but is now "The Republic of China" in March of 1944, to a long line

CHASKA, Minn. (AP) — It's ship of the last 10 years, finished second four times, three U.S. Open, six years since he took a major title, six months without a victory of any kind but Arnold Palmer still is king, in almost 15 years and was in the depths of a slump that threatened to end his incredible career.

He bristles at any suggestion he is past his peak, his army of followers is undiminished and the muscular idol of golfing millions still burns with a fierce desire to win.

"Sure, I think I can still win," the 40-year-old millionaire said. "I always think I can win. Doing it is something else sometimes. But I think I can play winning golf for a long time yet, barring, of course, something drastic happening."

Staszak Named Commissioner of Olympian Loop

Ray Staszak, of West De Pere, has been appointed athletic commissioner of the new Olympian Conference, according to Doug Davidson, circuit president.

Staszak, an educator and an athletic official, will conduct coaches' meetings, employ officials, establish schedules and serve as a liaison between the week's Western Open despite two mediocre closing rounds.

Macs Crush Freedom '9' In Tourney

Sock 5 Homers, Meet Two Rivers Thursday Night

MENASHA—The Menasha Macs hammered five home runs in toppling Freedom, 12-2, in the Menasha Athletic Association Baseball tournament Tuesday night.

Jack Friess and Tom Madden slammed 2-run blows in the first inning. Steve Seidl connected with one aboard and Mark Hinske had a bases-empty clout in the fourth.

Terry Vindhurst crashed a 3-run blast in the seventh frame. Jim Beyer homered with a man on base in the eighth to account for both of the Met's markers.

Dan Ferry and Brian Felda hurled for the Macs with Ferry getting the win. Gary Hodkiewicz, the first of three Freedom pitchers, took the loss.

Semi-finals are scheduled Thursday night with Green Bay facing Berlin at 6:30 p.m. and the Macs dueling Two Rivers at 8:30.

The third place and championship games are slated Friday evening.

Jets' Baird Ends Career

Veteran Safety Agrees to Return If He Is Needed

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Baird, the New York Jets' veteran free safety, retired from pro football Tuesday. The announcement was made by Baird and Coach and General Manager Weeb Ewbank.

Ewbank said Baird, 31, agreed to come out of retirement if the club needed him.

Baird is in management for a real estate firm and will be working with his former teammate, Dainard Paulson, in the company's San Jose, Calif. branch near his home in Sunnydale, Calif.

The 5-foot-10 180-pounder was discovered by Ewbank when he was coaching the Baltimore Colts. When the Colts let Baird go, the Jets signed him and he was a regular for seven years.

Baird holds the club record for interceptions, 34, most yards returned on interceptions, 357, most punts returned, 83, most yardage for punts returned, 787, and longest punt return, 93.

The tentative depth chart shows Mike Battle in Baird's former spot with W.K. Hicks, former Houston back, and rookie Steve Tannen of Florida next.

Benson, Mau Share Honors

KAUKAUNA—Pete Benson and Dave Mau fired par 38s to lead the Fox Valley Golf Club Twilight League.

Runnerup honors of 37 went to Jim Gerhard. Harry Bressers, Bob Bootz, Omar Wolgram and Tom Hanby all posted scored of 38. E-Z Glide scored a 15-5 win to hold first in the Acushnet Division while Kegler's Klub moved into first in the First Flight Division.

Mac's Crush Freedom '9' In Tourney

By the time Tokyo's Olympics had come along, Chi Cheng had been shipped to American shocked and put under the training of coach Vince Reel. She managed to survive heats, but it was not until the Mexico City Olympics that she gained her first medal—a bronze—in the hurdles, the first medal ever won by an Asian woman.

Chi Cheng today is in the tradition of Babe Didrickson or Stella Walsh, or Fanny Blankers-Koen. Mrs. Blankers-Koen, you will recall, is the Dutch girl who placed sixth in the high jump in the Berlin Olympics in 1936, then waited 12 years for another Olympics to come along. By 1948, she was 30 years old, had a husband and two children—and came home from London with FOUR gold medals, in the 100, 200, 80-meter hurdles and relay.

In the 1932 Olympics, Babe Didrickson broke the world record in the javelin, the hurdles and the high jump (although she had to settle for a silver in the high jump after being penalized for "diving" over the bar, whatever that is). Stella Walsh broke the Olympic 100-meter record in the same Olympics and was to win almost 40 national titles over the next 20 years.

Chi Cheng, who will be 28 at the Munich Olympics in '72, is that kind of athlete. Last Saturday, she broke the world record in the 100 and 220. She is the American pentathlon champion, victor in a competition involving hurdles, dashes, shotput, high jump and long jump. Her colleagues tease her—the "Yellow Racer," "Wun Long Hop," the "Chinese Chickie," they call her—but, Confucius say, if the heats are staggered at Munich, the white, browns, blacks and Reds may wonder where the yellow went.

Appleton Raps W-F Legion

Mueller, Kliefoth And Bodway All Homer in Sixth

WEYAUWEGA — Appleton's Legion team cracked 23 hits, nine of them coming in a wild 8-run sixth inning, to humble Weyauwega-Fremont, 19-1, here Tuesday night.

The winners also slammed three home runs in the sixth frame, including solo shots by Dwight Mueller and Pete Kliefoth and a 3-run blow by Dan Bodway.

While the Appleton hitters were having a field day, W-F batters could manage just four hits off Lance Voelz. Voelz had 15 strikeouts in the game called after seven innings.

W-F scored its only run in the sixth on Jim Rupno's triple and an Appleton error.

Kliefoth led the Appleton assault with a double and single in addition to his homer. Mueller drove in five runs with two singles and his homer, while Lee Bauman singled three times and scored three runs and Jerry Vander Linden stroked three hits and also scored three runs.

Appleton's job was made easier by W-F's eight errors in the field.

Graebner, Tom Okker Lose on London Court

LONDON (AP) — It was difficult to tell Tuesday whether the biggest upsets were on the court or in the London Grass Court Tennis Championships or in the seedings for Wimbledon.

At the same time the seedings for next week's Wimbledon championships were being released, three of the lower seeds were being upset at London by non-rated players.

Dick Crealy of Australia stunned Clark Graebner of New York 6-2, 1-6, 6-0 in the second round only hours after Graebner was seeded ninth for Wimbledon.

Then Jaidip Mukerjee of India surprised No. 11 Tom Okker of the Netherlands 6-2, 2-6, 9-7 and including No. 7 Stan Smith of Los Angeles. No. 15 Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., and Richey made it to the third round here.

"This seeding list is a shocker," Richey said, noting that Wimbledon is played on grass, the world's top player and favored to win his third straight Wimbledon crown, eliminated Premjit Lal of India 6-3, 6-4 in only last week won the West of England title by beating Okker.

John Newcombe, who is seeded No. 2 at Wimbledon and Laver, not competing here.

Capt. Mike Gibson, the Wimbledon tournament referee called the seedings "a difficult job."

Somebody is bound to complain "We base our Wimbledon last year and how they have fared since, especially on grass courts."

The only other upset of the day was Mrs. Carole Graebner's to become head coach of the Phoenix Suns of the National Basketball Association was announced by Ernie Barrett, K-State athletic director.

Kaukauna Boys Will See Brewers Play June 27

KAUKAUNA — The recreation department will sponsor a bus trip for boys 8 through 15 to a Milwaukee Brewers game against the Oakland Athletics June 27, according to James Geritz, recreation director.

Cost of the trip, including ticket, will be $2.50 payable when registering at the recreation office. Registrations are now being accepted. A similar trip for girls is being planned July 25. Prior to the game, youngsters will visit the Milwaukee County Zoo.

Adult males interested in chaperoning the boys may call the recreation office.

Dan Bleckinger Wins in Meet

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Dan Bleckinger of Oshkosh, Wis., survived Tuesday's round in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tennis meet.

Cost of the trip, including ticket, will be $2.50 payable when registering at the recreation office. Registrations are now being accepted. A similar trip for girls is being planned July 25. Prior to the game, youngsters will visit the Milwaukee County Zoo.

Adult males interested in chaperoning the boys may call the recreation office.

Says Supreme Court Ruling Could Give Clay CO Status

ATLANTA (AP) — An attorney as a conscientious objector because of membership in the Black Muslim faith.

Reber Bolt, an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, which is defending Ali, said that an earlier decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals did not doubt Ali's sincerity in his objection to war, but instead, said the court felt that Black Muslims were primarily a political and racial rather than religious organization.

Bolt said the court's latest decision could end the litigation.

Hayes Shoots 71, Finishes 2nd in Meet

Appleton's John Hayes fired a 71 at Menasha North Shore Tuesday to vault into second place in the state senior golf tournament.

Bill Angel of Racine, retained his first day edge to take the title. Angel added a 75 to his first-day 71 at Appleton (Butte des Morts) to finish five strokes ahead of Hayes (who had a first-day 80), 146 to 151.

The senior - veterans crown was retained by Frank Parkinson of Madison with a 77-79-156.

SIU's Hartman Named Coach At Kansas State

MANHATTAN Kan (AP) — Jack Hartman 44, head basketball coach at Southern Illinois University, was named head coach at Kansas State University Tuesday.

The appointment of Hartman to replace Cotton Fitzsimmons who resigned earlier this month day was Mrs. Carole Graebner's to become head coach of the Phoenix Suns of the National Basketball Association was announced by Ernie Barrett, K-State athletic director.

Cutting Classes for Politics

University of Wisconsin President Harrington is on the record before a committee of the United States Congress as saying that the school will refuse the demands of some students who want the right to leave their classes for an extended period in the fall — two weeks in late October has been mentioned frequently — to permit them to participate in the political campaigns on behalf of causes and candidates they favor.

The president is right. As he put it, the university encourages political participation by students, as does any responsible individual. But to suggest that the most costly institution the people of Wisconsin support with their increasingly high tax payments should in effect close its classroom doors for two weeks is impracticable, unreasonable and absurd.

The students have as much opportunity to participate in the political campaigns if they are serious about their declared intentions as have any other group in the Wisconsin community.

They can indulge their desire for campaign assistance on behalf of favored candidates in their spare time — of which the events of the last several years on the Madison campus suggest that they have in abundance — even as does the workingman, the teacher, the businessman, the farmer, or the high school student, who may also be concerned about the issues that have involved the college and university students in such noisy activism lately.

Any administrative approval of a University recess in the fall for political campaigning by students, almost before they have settled into their semester's work, would inevitably interfere with the orderly continuation of hundreds, perhaps thousands of lectures and class sections, and represent a loss to the people of Wisconsin in wasted faculty and hundreds of thousands, and perhaps millions of dollars. It is conceivable that some classes would be decimated so severely, under such a university imprimatur, that some students would be deprived of the instruction for which they or their parents, not to mention the people of Wisconsin, have paid heavily. It would be a more severe penalty upon the graduate students, whose fees are proportionately higher, and whose cost of instruction to the university budget is also far higher.

There are dozens of ways in which students, like other persons who have daytime duties, can aid the men and the measures that suit their political tastes. If they have the spare money to take to the campaign trail, they can contribute like sums to the candidates or the party of their preference. They can work in the headquarters of the state political parties, conveniently located within a few blocks of the campus in Madison. They can write letters to their friends and other voters in their home districts. They can collect funds for advertising and promotion on behalf of their special political objectives.

But they cannot again close down the university in the name of freedom of expression, denying the equally valid, if not more important, freedom of their classmates to continue the studies for which they enrolled.

Dissent in the Administration

President Nixon has obviously had some second thoughts about retaining in his Administration family those with a wide variety of views.

The firing of Dr. James Allen as Commissioner of Education and the apparently well substantiated reports that Mr. Nixon would just as soon have Walter Hickel resign as Secretary of the Interior are cases in point. And despite the efforts to infer that Dr. Allen at least had to leave because of poor administrative efficiency, it is clear that his outspoken criticism of the Cambodian move and Mr. Hickel's leaked personal letter to the President requesting a different approach to campus dissenters are the real matters that irked the President.

We can't really blame him. Certainly the President of the United States, like any man in authority, has a right to expect loyalty from the people he has chosen to work with him. Opposition to decisions expressed personally and in private are one thing; news conferences are quite another. The President has several times said that he did not want to be surrounded by yes men but this should not be interpreted to mean public criticism of decisions once they are made.

But it is disturbing that the President apparently has had little contact with such dissenters in his Administration. Things may change now somewhat with Robert Finch in his new position as consultant to the President, but in the past Mr. Nixon seemed to give ear only to the opinions of Attorney General John Mitchell and conservative members of the White House staff. This has not only been disturbing because of the President's decision on sending American troops into Cambodia over what is reported to be the opposition of both the Secretaries of Defense and State whose opinions should have carried considerable weight. The conservative — really the reactionary — advice influenced the slow down on desegregation of schools, the attempt to pretend that campus dissenters to the war hardly existed, and the drawing up of such tough law and order bills that there are wide protests as to constitutional issues from varied sources. Dr. Allen says the President did not contact him before he made his school desegregation speech in April. Mr. Hickel seems to have been by-passed regarding a conference on oil leases. High governmental officials should not be merely window dressing to give the appearance of tolerance of other views.

The outbursts in the nation following the Cambodian move and the campus tragedies did indicate to the President that he was not getting the best information available on the mood in the nation. But if he cleans his house so thoroughly that there are none left except those who share his exact views, he is likely to have more troubles.

Extremists Win in Jordan

King Hussein's capitulation to the Palestine Liberation Organization may have averted civil war in Jordan. But the outlook for the future is not encouraging. Once more the voices of moderation have been hushed and the extremists have won.

There are a number of commando or guerrilla Arab organizations, all of which aim, in varying degrees, at wiping out Israel completely. Many members are refugees who left their homes when Israel was set up and who have been bitterly resenting the situation ever since. None are actually connected with the government of any Arab country although Lebanon made an agreement with at least one organization about the limits of guerrilla activity after a near civil war in the country last spring. But the guerrilla's strength is their ability to arouse the peasants, to inspire more hatred of the Israelis, and thus to put pressure upon reasonably moderate governments, such as that in Jordan, to take firmer stands.

Jordan had prohibited the carrying of arms by guerrilla troops but King Hussein had to back down on that some weeks ago. Now both guerrilla and regular army units are not permitted to carry arms except when on immediate duty in an effort to lower the chances of clashes such as occurred last week. But the King was forced to fire his military commander and several lower ranking officers. Certainly there will be more raids against Israel from Jordan. The belligerence of the governments in Syria and Iraq add to Hussein's problems since they would just as soon come in and pick up the pieces.

The only possible encouragement in the current situation is that it might scare the Soviet Union enough into slowing down its own backing of the Arabs and some of the Russian leaders' inflammatory rhetoric.

Moonlight Excursion Planned

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for June 9, 1870.

The steamer Island City has been chartered by a party of our citizens who intend to treat themselves to a moonlight excursion upon Lake Winnebago, Thursday next.

The boat will leave the Canal Company's dock at 7 p.m. and return at 12 o'clock (midnight).

Christie's Brass Band has been engaged for the occasion and will furnish delightful music for the participants.

Wednesday, June 13, 1845.

Sgt. Lloyd Stark, Appleton GI, was discharged after serving four years with a Wisconsin medical regiment. He spent more than three years overseas, serving in the East Indies, New Guinea, New Britain and the Philippines. He was with the 31st, 32nd and 33rd divisions on New Guinea and with the 40th and 37th in the landing on Luzon, later going to Bataan to join the 38th and 24th divisions.

Lt. Leslie G. Gebheim, chief steward in the Merchant Marine, arrived from Scotland and was at home with his wife and two children before being transferred to the Pacific. He also visited his parents while in Appleton.

Charles Van Eyck, Little Chute Boy Scout, received the Life Scout award at the court of honor in Doyle Park. Scoutmasters of the troop were Harvey Van Lankvelt and Paul Nallard.

Taylor Writes

Pusey, Toole Are Refreshing Voices in Educational World

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

While publicity-minded Yale President Kingman Brewster was pampering student protesters at Yale's Commencement, Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey showed a great deal more sense.

In short, Dr. Pusey said they've got the hair, but do they really have the problems?

Incorporating in his indictment "some faculty members who want to see our universities denigrated, maligned and even shut down," the Harvard president drew accurate parallels with the time-honored Nazi and Red techniques alike. He bluntly stated that in their technique of "Anybody we don't want to hear, nobody's going to hear" they demand that others follow democratic rules which they themselves deny.

Likes Prof. Toole
Meanwhile, an equally refreshing voice came out of the University of Montana. Prof. K. Ross Toole took a look at those youths who seem to feel that youth is a possession — indeed, a kind of actual accomplishment for which the young should be praised.

Dr. Toole asked: "By virtue of what right, by what accomplishment, should thousands of teen-agers, utterly without benefit of having lived long enough to have either judgment or wisdom, become the sages of our time?"

The famous "generation gap" is merely a cliché for the simple fact that none of us is as old as we're going to be or as young as we used to be. Meanwhile, there is, more truly than a generation gap, an experience gap.

All who are young are interesting because they think for themselves. Their brain has not been fitted to thoughts ready-made. But you would not entrust to them large enterprises and problems. A certain amount of tested knowledge, experience and seasoning is required. There's a limit to anyone's patience when a super-self-confident youth ignores that self-evident truth.

How many, many generations have said in due course: "I wish I were as smart and knew as much as I thought I knew at 20?" Most who are now young will say the same someday.

Which makes a nation richer, natural resources or education? "Education," says eminent economist Harold F. Clark, "ten to one." He has listed every nation in the world and compared the natural resources — minerals, soil, climate, etc. — with the degree of education. The nations with the most number of educated citizens were incomparably better off.

But what we should remember about education and its institutions in general is the primary meaning of the word "education." It means to "draw out." A fundamental principle of education is to teach the meaning of excellence, the first-rate; to instruct the student that it is his business to learn what is first-rate and to pursue it — not only in the job or profession by which he earns his living — but in all the great fields of life and, above all, in living.

"This institution will be based on the illimitable freedom of the human mind," wrote Thomas Jefferson in founding the University of Virginia. The purpose of education is to teach people to think. This is an enormously difficult task. Education cannot be conducted on the basis of a community sing. Wouldn't even President Brewster acknowledge that a good education cannot be acquired without discipline and the achievement of self-discipline?

No Popularity Contest

Teaching is a profession — a highly specialized and often frustrating profession that requires much longer training than many of the student-oriented young faculty members have had. Teaching is not a popularity contest. Could an airline's passengers successfully choose the pilots? Or could the passengers and pilots, in turn, successfully run the airline?

The forces of destruction are always one short step behind creation. Education is not a weed that will grow in any soil. It is a delicate crop that can easily wilt and degenerate unless properly administered.

Nothing works without management. The duty of management is to manage. In organizations you find good management. You also find bad management, which should be ousted. But the need for responsible management is undeniable.

A university fails as an educational institution whenever trustees, executives, deans and professors duck their responsibilities in the face of phony shouts about "academic freedom" or anything else, or negotiate with lawbreaking demonstrators under a condition of duress.

If the trustees and faculties are muddleheaded about that, what can you expect of the student bodies? Well, you can expect what we are so widely getting and, tragically, it is the student themselves who will suffer the most in later life.

Wisconsin Report

Governor Is Most Expendable Man in American Politics

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — In a remark that sticks in the memory, the late President Kennedy once told a fund raising audience of Democrats in Wisconsin that the governor of a state has become the most expendable man in American politics.

The observation made such a lasting impression on me because it is so easily demonstrated in the modern history of Wisconsin.

Wyngaard

torate has sent to Washington members of the House of Representatives and the United States Senate who were elected and re-elected and re-elected. Not only is a congressional seat in either house typically easier to win than the governorship, but it is demonstrably easier to hold.

Served 24 Years

Sen. Alexander Wiley served 24 years, before he was defeated, partly because of his advanced age, partly because he had the poor luck to encounter the personable and effective campaigner Gaylord Nelson in his last campaign.

No Wisconsin governor has been elected for more than three short terms, for a total of six short years, or the length of a single term as a senator. Wisconsin has had a couple of dozen members of the House of Representatives who served 15, 20, 25 years or more. Governors have sometimes run for a Senate seat, but it is rare that the process is reversed.

The governor has a far higher popular identification. His is the most important office in the whole structure of government of a state. According to his conscience, skill and will, he has a far greater capacity for serving and aiding his constituency, than one senator out of the 100 who compose the upper house of Congress.

It is perhaps for that reason that the office is such a dangerous one to hold. A governor has broad, explicit power. He is constantly in the limelight. He makes decisions

Strictly Personal

City Dweller Needs Taste of Rural Life

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

By the time these lines appear in print, God willing, I shall be leaving for the country, to spend the summer shaking down the cherry trees, sweeping off the tennis court, and tossing rocks out of the lagoon in front of my house.

What we forget, in modern

society, is that it has been less than a century since the majority of men were able to lead a life that was fairly balanced between urban and rustic settings. We are now condemned to a single setting — except for a few weeks vacation a year.

If you look at pictures of London or New York in the 1880s or 1890s, you can see that the city-dweller was just a few miles from the country. Even in my own boyhood, in Chicago, during the 1920s, you could venture out a dozen miles from the city and be in farmland.

As candidates for First-Class Scouts, we took our 14-mile hike from the inner city — and were camping overnight on the deserted shore of the Des Plaines river. That deserted shore is now one of the fastest-growing suburban areas in the nation.

The urban complex has metastasized through the body of our country with astounding and unprecedented speed, using the new highways as blood vessels carrying this infection as wildy as cancer cells.

daily that are known instantly to those of his constituency who are in the slightest way concerned. A senator or a representative can function at a leisurely pace in Washington, and only occasionally spare a moment's concern for a difficult roll call.

Wonder About Motivations

The sideline sometimes wonders, accordingly, about the motivations of candidates for governor who always seem to be in ample supply.

Why should a man spend heavily, work at a dangerously enervating pace, and patiently build his game plan, so to speak, over a long period, in anticipation of that final bid for the executive office at Madison, when he knows that the chances of being recorded in history as mediocre or unsuccessful are probably as strong as the chance of being listed among the successful heads of the state?

Motives vary with men, but some are common to all. There is the lure of power, more common than may be supposed. There is a craving for the limelight in some cases. Possessing the governorship is a distinction that only a comparative handful of men have had in the history of the state.

Proud in Defeat

I have known men who took a deep pride in the fact that they were nominated for the office, notwithstanding their defeat.

There are men who innately love politics, and politics at the highest level in a state is personified in the operations of the executive office. Sometimes men talk of "drafts" when they recount their political careers. There are sometimes "drafted" mayors, or aldermen, or even state senators. But in an adult lifetime spent in close proximity to the Wisconsin political system, I have not yet observed a genuine gubernatorial draft, although upon occasion the suggestions of friends and associates help to animate innate ambitions.

There is also, happily, the motivation of public service. It is not necessarily incompatible with a desire for power, distinction, and the limelight. Thus, although it has become the most difficult office in American politics below the presidency, it is not likely that there will be a shortage of aspirants in foreseeable time.

City Dweller Needs

Taste of Rural Life

To find the kind of seclusion that was so closely available even a generation or two ago, we now must travel hundreds of miles, at considerable expense — and without any guarantee that the blight will not follow us, for the small town seems doomed as a self-sufficient economic unit in industrial America.

Yet I am convinced that the human organism needs both the bracing environment of the city and the soothing atmosphere of the country to maintain its optimum functioning, mentally, physically and socially. The country man is only part of a man; he misses much of what is important in his own time. The city man is only part of a man; he misses much of what is permanent and continuous in human experience.

If we had a genuine civilization, based on our deepest personal needs as a species, our society would not be schizophrenic in this way: there would be a delicate balance between the urban and the rustic, so that the hideous hybrid known as the suburb would not have arisen, providing its inhabitants with the most vexing problems of both the city and the country.

Rusticity, as a year-round way of life, makes people soggy; and urbanity makes them brittle. We need each as a counter-vailing force to the other; but our "profress" has merely polarized our lifestyles and driven us further apart while it brings us closer together.

Nixon Reveals 3-Way Bar Against Inflation

Formal Wage-Price Controls Averted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today the erection of a three-way governmental barrier to spiraling inflation while promising:

"I will not take this nation down the road of wage and price controls."

Nixon thus gave way to increasing pressure for a policy of voluntary restraint on wages and prices.

In a nationwide TV-radio broadcast on economic policy, he lectured business and labor on their responsibility to refrain from excessive price markups and wage increases.

"The fight against inflation is everybody's business," the President said.

He announced these actions to pull the reins tighter on inflation.

Productivity

1 A National Commission on Productivity will be named with representatives from business, labor, government and the public. Its duty will be to find ways of increasing output per worker and bringing a balance between cost and productivity to assure more stable prices.

2. Nixon directed the Council of Economic Advisers to prepare a periodic "inflation alert" to spotlight significant wage and price bulges and analyze their inflationary impact.

"This inflation alert will call attention to outstanding cases of price or wage increases and will be made public by the National Commission on Productivity," Nixon said.

Regulations Board

3 A Regulations and Purchasing Review Board is being set up to review federal purchasing procedures to assure that they do not drive up costs and prices; and to review import policy to see whether supplies can be increased to meet rising consumer demand without loss of jobs at home.

"This administration, by its spending restraint, has set the example in this past year; we believe we have now earned the credentials to call for similar restraint from business and labor to slow down inflation," Nixon said.

While the President in the past opposed both voluntary and mandatory price curbs as useless and unworkable, he has been under strong pressure from Republicans on Capitol Hill to pull the inflation brakes tighter and obstruct the economy as an economic issue this year.

Some of his own administration officials agreed.

Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, said Tuesday night the union wasn't impressed with the commission concept and would not be inclined to roll back its forthcoming wage requests even if the President called them inflationary.

"Mr. Nixon's batting average in the economic sphere is not such as to warrant us to have great faith in him," Woodcock said. "I don't think we'd pay too much attention."

The commission plan sounded much like the proposal of Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney. He suggested creation of a special body to analyze price markups and wage settlements and publicize those it deemed inflationary.

Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., has introduced a bill to confer such responsibility on the President's Council of Economic Advisers. House Democrats have added to the pressure on the White House by introducing a bill to give Nixon standby wage and price control powers.

While few expected Nixon and Johnson to tell the Minnesota Bankers Convention in Minneapolis Monday that Nixon should call boldly on big business and Democrats could say they gave labor to exercise restraint on wage and price increases.

Heller said a public review of wage and price decisions stocks right now."

Voters Oust Addonizio For First Black Mayor

Indicted Councilman

Two Gibson men ousted veteran Negro Councilmen Irvine Turner and Calvin West, who were aligned with Addonizio and who were indicted with him on federal extortion and conspiracy

Gibson's headquarters said there was a tentative move being made to set a meeting with Addonizio later in the day. The mayor's office said Addonizio had suggested the meeting and would try to return from Trenton in time to sit down with Gibson and discuss the transition of government.

Negro Parade

winner, hundreds of Negroes paraded the main street of this racially divided city. New Jersey's largest, some shouting "Power to the people!" and waving clenched fists in a Black Power salute.

Gibson, pledging to work for an end to chronic black-white confrontations, declared: "We must begin to reconcile this community at this moment."

Newark, with a population over 400,000, has a majority of black residents, but Negroes trail whites 3 to 2 in voting registrations.

The key to Gibson's victory, appeared to be white votes from areas where former Fire Director John Caufield, who endorsed Gibson, ran strongly in the first election May 12.

Gibson, who takes office July

Israel Resumes Raids Into Syria After 3-Month Pause

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli commandos made their first raid into Syria in three months Tuesday night and their deepest since the 1967 Middle East war.

A military spokesman in Tel Aviv said the raiders penetrated 70 miles into the neighboring country, striking a bridge 40 miles south of Damascus and shelling an army base 49 miles northeast of the capital.

Damascus Radio said the raiders killed two Syrians and injured five. It did not mention the bridge but said an Israeli helicopter attacked an army port continued. Israeli planes camp north of Damascus while more Israeli planes crossed into the southern part of the country, said Syrian jets chased them off.

An Israeli spokesman said the raiders were in retaliation for "49 acts of aggression" by Syrian troops and Arab guerrillas in the past month. He said three Israeli's were killed and 15

Ambassador Released Day After Hostages Were Freed

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — seemed to be in good shape otherwise.

The West German ambassador to Brazil was released Tuesday night, had a quick snack of orange juice and eggs and told newsmen he would tell them later about his five-day ordeal at the mercy of political kidnapers.

Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben was freed on a Rio de Janeiro street nearly 24 hours after the arrival in Algiers of 40 political prisoners whose freedom was demanded by the kidnapers. The diplomat was given a ride home by a young lawyer who recognized him.

It was the third political kidnapping in Brazil since last September, and the ninth of a diplomat by antigovernment forces in Latin America. All have been released unharmed except Count Karl von Sprei, the West German ambassador to Guatemala, who was murdered last April after the Guatemalan government refused to free prisoners demanded as ransom.

Snatched Thursday

Von Holleben was pulled from his car last Thursday by nine young men and a woman carrying machine guns. They killed one Brazilian security guard and wounded two others before speeding the envoy away. Leaflets strewn on the street identified the kidnapers as members of the Popular Revolutionary Vanguard, an underground leftist group opposing the military regime in Brazil.

"Yes, I'm all right," the 61-year-old diplomat said as he got out of the car in front of his residence. He looked tired and worn, and his tan suit was wrinkled and creased, but he

The Mail Gets Through

Neither Fog, Nor Waves...

DETROIT (AP) — The mail-a-pail postal service begins its 75th year of deliveries today to ships passing the city on the Detroit River.

Known as the Detroit River Post Office, it consists of a boat which has its own zip code — 48222 — and plies the waters 24 hours a day seven days a week.

About 50 times a day, the mailboat J. J. Westcott II leaves its dockside station on the American side of the river for a rendezvous with ocean-going or Great Lakes freighters.

When the Westcott comes alongside a freighter, a seaman on the larger ship lowers a mail containing mail to be posted.

When this is omitted, the pail is filled with letters, newspapers and packages for the ship's crew.

L. Baker said more than one million pieces of mail will be handled this season in some 14,000 deliveries. About 2,000 of these will go to foreign vessels.

The first mail-by-pail delivery on the Detroit River was made June 17, 1895, by a man in a rowboat who was towed into the path of an oncoming ship by a small powerboat and left there until the delivery was completed.

Use the Oars

He had to use his oars to keep out of the way of the ship while staying close enough to make the mail exchange.

The powerboat then towed him back to shore.

"I don't envy that fellow in the rowboat, whoever he was," said Capt. Bill Adamek, a mailboat skipper for 22 years.

Parallel With Soviet Talks

Peace Bid Directly to Egypt Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, probing for a break in the Middle East crisis, is considering a direct new approach to Egypt parallel with renewed Soviet-U.S. talks on developing an Arab-Israeli peace formula.

Such a step is being considered as part of a U.S. program which is expected to provide a pledge to Israel of additional jet planes to offset recently increased Soviet military help to Egypt.

Some highly placed officials are represented as hopeful the intensity of the present Middle East crisis may open up new opportunities for peace negotiations.

Others, remembering the failure of prolonged U.S.-Soviet talks last year, are skeptical.

Decision Pending

President Nixon has yet to make a final decision on exactly what the diplomatic-military package will contain. His conclusions, first expected this week, may now not be completed until next week.

In order to avoid the maximum publicity of a White House announcement, they probably will be disclosed by Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Up to now the administration appeared to be concentrating its efforts on searching with the Soviets for the statement of principles which would enable the Israeli and Arab governments, particularly Egypt, to eventually negotiate a settlement.

Officials now rule out exclusive reliance on the Soviets as a U.S.-Egypt go-between.

Either publicly or through diplomatic channels, or both, the probability is said to be high that Nixon will probe recent intentions that Egyptian Pres-

One Nasser move came in a letter here in the light of a more recent Nasser comment recorded in Cairo about a month ago and broadcast by National Educational Television stations last weekend on the program "Advocacy of all that has happened we have not closed the door to negotiations."

Nasser said in the broadcast he would restore a cease-fire on the Arab side that could last for six months if Israel declared its intention to withdraw to its pre-June, 1967, boundaries.

It is now said in official quarters that Nasser's May Day

speech deserves and will require a reply from President

Waupaca OKs Bids For Pumping Station

Approval of Electrical Pact Delayed

WAUPACA — After considering the city had to file condemnation proceedings on the Shanak property, where the sewage pumping station is to be located, and the extension of sewer lines to the Pepsi Cola Bottling Works, the Riverview Nursing Home and residents along Churchill Street from the mill pond to within a short distance from the city limits.

Low bidders at the June 12 bid opening were Azco, Appleton, $18,417 for the sewage pumping station, and P and B excavating Co., Appleton, $40,652 for the sewer lines.

Total cost of the project will be $59,269.

The discussion centered in the $9,269 excess cost. When the city borrowed $250,000 in promissory notes several weeks ago, $50,000 was earmarked for the Churchill project.

Ald. Julius Johnson (4th), chairman of the Board of Public Works, explained that the project had been bid for the second time and that the bid up for use of his property. The sewage approval was higher than the original one last year.

"Costs are higher," Johnson explained. "In addition to that, the city had to file condemnation proceedings on the Shanak property, where the sewage pumping station is to be located, and that has cost an additional $9,000."

"It is necessary that we go ahead with the project because Churchill Street from the mill pond to within a short distance from the city limits as a year ago to get rid of its septic tank," he added.

The Board of Public Works also assured the council that no additional projects would be undertaken this year except in an extreme emergency.

Ald. Ed. Hinton (1st), asked, "Where is the money coming from? Our Center Street deal has gone right up the flue."

"Whoever had the responsibility for looking for the right-of-way on Churchill Street should have obtained Shanak's permission to use his property before the first bids were made," Johnson said.

Shanak will be paid $500 for time and that the bid up for use of his property. The sewage approval was higher than the original one last year.

"The people won't stand for it," Hinton replied.

Before a vote could be taken, Hinton pointed out that the city was "running close to the bottom of the barrel" with its funds.

"Center and High Street are out this year," he said. "What if the $200,000 we borrowed for the well and transmission lines is not enough? The bids on the transmission lines into the city are still ahead of us."

"We were promised water on Center Street a year ago, last fall and again this spring. Now we are entirely out," he added.

Mayor Edward Kramer pointed out that a larger transmission line on Center Street would not solve the pressure problem.

"What will solve the problem," he said, "Will be the complete revamping of our water system with the proposed elevated towers and added transmission lines. When this is completed I think it would be a good idea if Center Street residents went along with the city's proposal for a new street, including curb and gutter."

This is the Architects conception of the new First Assembly of God Church which is under construction on a 25 acre site north of U.S. 10 and County Trunk E near Waupaca. The $120,000 church will contain a 300 person seating capacity sanctuary, education wing and fellowship hall.

Denies Plea for Merger With COG Bubolz Wants Immediate Cooperation

Gordon Bubolz, chairman of the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission, again has called for cooperation between his agency and the Fox Valley Council of Governments, while at the same time denying that he has proposed an immediate merger.

The statement came in a letter Monday directed to Kaukauna Mayor Gilbert Anderson, chairman of COG.

The letter is in answer to a June 12 letter from Eugene Franchett, executive director of COG, to Charles Hervey, executive director of Northeastern, in which Franchett refers to a May 15 meeting at which "it was suggested by Gordon Bubolz that the two commissions be merged."

"It is quite evident that Mr. Franchett misunderstood me," Bubolz said, "because I did not say that the two agencies should merge at this time."

Improve Efficiency

"I am sure you will recall my stating that the efficiencies of both planning agencies could be improved by the joint use of equipment, and the combining of staff abilities for the identification of problems would be mutually advantageous to the communities served by the planning agencies," he added.

Bubolz responded to Franchett's claim that any idea of merger between the two groups would be premature due to the Governor's Task Force on Regionalism, headed by Appleton's John Reeve.

Franchett said that when the task force report is released in July, "and it is clear what the best interests of the people of Winnebago and Outagamie counties really are, we will be pleased to discuss seriously regional interrelationships with other regional agencies and counties with whom we have a common interest in this area of the state."

Such waiting was called unnecessary by Bubolz, who estimated that a closer working relationship and joint collaboration of efforts could result in savings of at least 30 per cent for the two groups.

Clarify Position

"I see no reason for not taking immediate advantage of the greater efficiencies to cut costs in the two planning agencies. This letter will clarify in writing my position and posture in this matter."

Others in the Valley have called for merger consideration. "I personally hope there is a marriage between the two agencies," Outagamie County Board Chairman Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna, said recently.

Hervey has welcomed such proposals, while Northeastern planner Thomas Obenberger recently called for cooperation on regional sewage problems.

Bubolz has invited Anderson and Franchett to attend the quarterly meeting of the Northeastern commission June 18.

New Church Being Built At Waupaca

WAUPACA — Construction of the First Assembly of God church has started on a 25-acre site North of U.S. 10 and County Trunk E.

The $120,000 building, designed by Architect Robert Surplice, Green Bay, will be built by Sherman Schneider, an Appleton contractor.

When complete, the church will contain three units, a sanctuary seating 300 persons, an educational wing and fellowship hall, joined by the entry and church offices.

The congregation has been in Waupaca since 1946 and conducts its services at Waupaca and Maple streets.

Plans for the church have been under way for 14 months. The building committee, comprised of church board members, is the Rev. Donald Upton, Lyle Campbell, Ray Roe, Ernest Sieberg, Norman Carlson and Sherman Schneider; and the Rev. Thomas Hodge, Lloyd Long and Harvey Coltrane Jr.

Chamber Sets '4th' Parade For Fremont

Children 14 Years And Younger Eligible To Receive Prizes

FREMONT — A 4th of July parade will be sponsored by the Fremont Area Chamber of Commerce, with anyone welcome to enter but only children 14 years and younger eligible for prizes.

Mrs. Mike Peters, leader of the Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls which sponsored the parade in past years, has been named chairman of the event.

Ladies assisting in planning are Mrs. Leonard Weber, Mrs. Melvin Maierhafer, Mrs. Larry Driscoll and Mrs. Marie Guenther.

Miss Peggy Peters, co-chairman, will accept entries until July 2. Girls assisting her are Lois Egnoski, Barbara Goode and Sally Driscoll.

Decorating, Display

The main booth will have Mrs. Harry Arndt in charge of decorating and display of the prizes. Evan Redemann will be master of ceremonies.

Categories for major prizes will be the patriotic theme, secretary, and Lawrence Kemmer, general float entry, bicycle, tricycle and buggy. The grand prize of a $25 savings bond may be won from any of the six categories.

Enough prizes are being donated by merchants and the Krause, president; John Engel, chamber so that each child will receive a prize. Delbert Haskins, entry will receive a prize. Herbert Foth, representing Super Market is supplying soda cream for each child and Mel's Entrants must be at the parking lot of the village hall by 9:30 a.m. for formation. The parade down Wolf River Drive in the village will be judged by five persons.

Council Reopens Issue New Sewer Assessment Hearing Set at New London

NEW LONDON — The City Council voted Tuesday to reopen the public hearing on the north side sanitary sewer assessments. These parties have appealed their assessment to the Circuit Court, and Beyer told the council that some of its previous action was illegal.

The aldermen approved a resolution invalidating their Feb. 17 action, and set a new hearing date for 8 p.m. June 30 at City Hall.

Beyer reported that the notice of public hearing had not been published in the city's official newspaper and that this automatically invalidated any action taken by the council.

Secondly, he said, two property owners, who reside in Green Bay were not notified of the hearing through the mail.

Clover Leaf's Protective Unit Holds Elections

CLINTONVILLE — Election of officers was held Saturday night at the annual meeting of the Clover Leaf Lakes Protective Association.

New officers are Don Jepson, secretary, and Lawrence Kemmer and Herbert Steinbach, directors. They succeed Frank Goetsch, secretary, and George McCauley and Ted Jaskolski, directors.

Holdover officers are Rueben Krause, president; John Engel, vice president; Delbert Haskins, treasurer, and Elmer Awe, director.

Herbert Foth, representing Foth & Porath, Green Bay sanitary engineers, spoke on the sewer and water progress. Also in attendance were patrolman Ed Bahr of the Shawano County and Jack Kunath, state conservation warden.

P-C Interview Draws Fire

Waupaca Alderman Doesn't Like City Official's Comments

WAUPACA — Statements made by Director of Public Works Iver Oerter in a recent newspaper interview drew the fire of an alderman on the council floor Tuesday night.

Ald. Marilyn K. Looker (3rd) told the council in its closing minutes that he took exception to "sarcastic statements" made by Oerter in an article published in the June 12 regional edition of The Post-Crescent.

Oerter had stated in a personal interview that the city's water utility is faced with two crises — a shortage of water and no funds.

When Looker asked for permission to read portions of the story, Mayor Edward Kramer promptly said, "This is not the place for it. I know of no one better qualified to assess the status of our water and sewer service than the director of public works."

The mayor suggested Looker take his complaint to the board of public works and assured him that his comments would be heard by that group.

Looker said he would do exactly that.

Chilton Main Street Renovation Plans Set for Next Fall

CHILTON — Final plans for renovation of W. Main Street probably will be completed by the State Department of Transportation this fall.

Walter Muehl, director of public works, told councilmen Tuesday night that work could be started any time after that, with completion by July, 1971. The project originally was slated for 1972.

Costs for an over-all State Street bridge study are not yet complete, Muehl said, but plans and specifications should be completed by city engineers soon.

In other action, the council authorized negotiation of a contract for ambulance service with Calumet Memorial Hospital.

Approved twenty-two tavern operator's licenses.

Instructed City Atty. William Engler Jr. to draw up a revised trailer ordinance which is to be discussed at the July 7 meeting.

Authorized Police Chief Dan Albedyil to purchase additional and specifications should be completed by city engineers who may be pressed into action.

Police Checking Report Man Hit Chilton Woman

CHILTON — Police are investigating an accident reported to have happened about 10 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. A.H. Pinnow, 217 N. Madison St.

According to Police Chief Dan Albedyil, Mrs. Pinnow answered her doorbell and a man entered. When he came into the house, he reportedly struck Mrs. Pinnow's face with his fist. She fled to a nearby room, but the man followed and a scuffle began.

The elderly lady fell against a coffee table and her assailant left the scene. Nothing was taken from the house but the table was smashed. Mrs. Pinnow called authorities, who arrived at the house shortly after the incident.

Her dog was in the back yard at the time and its barking alerted the neighbors, who assumed that the man came on during the department convention in July also will be discussed.

Police report that they have several leads into the incident.

Brillion Legion to Elect New Slate of Officers

BRILLION — Officers for the coming year will be elected Tuesday at the American Legion meets at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Installation will be during June 25 Calumet County American Legion Council meeting. Resolutions to be acted on during the department convention in July also will be discussed.

High School Annuals Are Ready at Hilbert

HILBERT — The high school annuals have arrived and will be distributed in the gym from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday.

Students are asked to bring $3 for the books, or the balance owed, when picking them up, as no annuals will be given without being paid for.

Heinritz Announces Republicans May Face Primary for Sheriff

After two weeks without a sheriff to present Sheriff Calvin Spivey and in 1966 he was defeated for the Republican nomination by Norbert Marx.

Since 1963, Heinritz has been parking meter superintendent for the City of Appleton. He served two terms as an alderman from the old 18th Ward and was president of the City Council in 1951.

He is a native of Appleton and a Navy veteran of World War II.

Calkins, 41, was appointed Shiocton police chief in March after working as a salesman in Appleton and Black Creek. He had served on the Beloit Police Department for seven years before coming to this area eight years ago.

Calkins, an Air Force Korean War veteran, is married and has five children. He lives in rural Black Creek and is making his first try for elective office.

Workers Needed New London Sets Wolf City Festival

NEW LONDON — Volunteers are needed to work during the city's second annual Wolf City Festival July 18 and 19.

The steering committee has requested the help of volunteers for the parade, parking, food and refreshment stands, games, rides and clean up after the festival.

Saturday's activities include a parade; a water ski show put on by the Fox Skimmers Water Ski Club, Omro; and raft races, water fights, canoe jousting, pony and covered wagon rides.

Riverside Park

Barbecued chicken, hamburgers, hot dogs and liquid refreshments will be available both days of the festival. The main festival activities will take place at Riverside Park on County Trunk X on the city's west side.

Two dances will be held Saturday evening. The teen dance will be at the national bank parking lot and the adult dance will be at Riverside Park.

The Wisconsin Outboard Racing Association Sunday will hold boat races on the river in the park area.

Phone Firm Construction Schedule Set

BRILLION — General Telephone Company's $277,000 construction program here is tentatively scheduled for completion this fall.

Lawrence R. Flath, customer service supervisor, said the service improvement is designed to eliminate multi-party service throughout the rural areas of the exchange. When completed, customers in the outlying areas will be able to select urban grades of telephone service, he said.

The utility plans to place more than 270,000 feet of telephone cable throughout the exchange with more than 92 per cent of this underground. Flath said that by burying the cable it helps to prevent service interruptions due to storms and enhances the natural beauty of the countryside.

The service improvement will include about $53,000 of additional central office equipment and nearly $225,000 of outside plant facilities.

The construction phase of the program is expected to begin in August.

Community Program Nursery School Hires New London Director

NEW LONDON — Mrs. John Ter Keurst has been hired as director-lead teacher of the nursery school sponsored by the First Congregational United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Ter Keurst is a graduate of Michigan State University. In addition to teaching kindergarten, she has taught second, third, fifth, and sixth grades.

The Ter Keurst family has recently moved to route 1, Weyauwega from Minnesota.

Mrs. Ter Keurst's most recent experience has been teaching kindergarten in Mahtomedi, Minn.

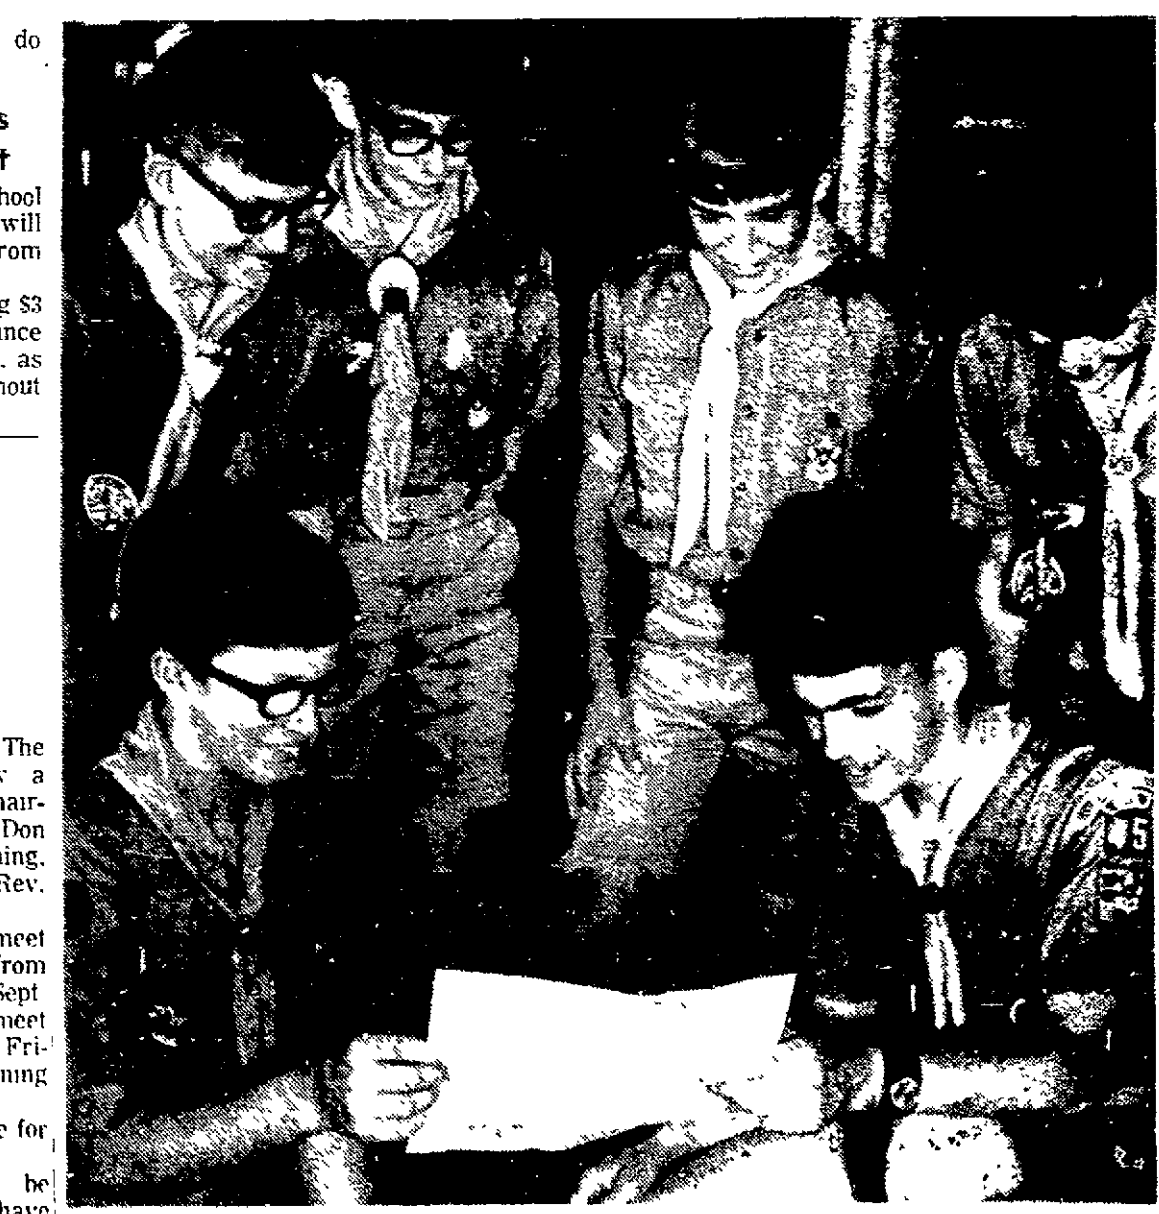

The nursery school will be located at the First Congregational Church, 110 E. Hancock St. This is a community, non-denominational program for three and four year olds. The school is administered by a committee consisting of chairman James Cristy, Mrs. Don Polzin, Mrs. Ned Demming, Mrs. Norm Myers, and the Rev. and Mrs. Staskal.

The three year olds will meet on Tuesday and Thursday from 9 to 11:45 a.m., beginning Sept. 9. Four year olds will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 to 11:45 a.m., beginning Sept. 9.

There is registration space for children in each session.

Mrs. Ter Keurst will be contacting parents who have enrolled children in the classes, and will meet with them before the school begins.

Rev. M. K. Staskal reports that the health forms for children and mothers are now due.

Violence Inevitable, Say Appleton UW Students

BY GERALD KAREY
University of Wisconsin
MADISON — For four Appleton natives, now students at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, the campus violence the week of May 4 was inevitable.

It was, in many respects the only response left to the many who had tried but failed to get their government to respond to peaceful dissent.

Cheryl Mattson, 1913 W. Glendale Ave., put it this way: "This country participates in violence on an indiscriminate level—you can't concern rock-throwing on State Street (Madison) and remain silent about napalm in Vietnam."

"Non-violence is everybody's responsibility."

Natural Product
Mark Jankowski of 607 E. Pershing St., felt violent protest was a natural product of frustration and lack of response.

"The system can ignore peaceful protest. Students have tried peaceful means. What did it get them? How do you measure the effects of peaceful protest against the President's invasion of Cambodia?"

While none of the students saw violence as the alternative to indifference and public apathy, they also refused to condemn student violence while condoning military violence in Indo-China.

The students felt that most violence is counter-productive. But the violence that followed President Nixon's Cambodian announcement was seen quite differently.

They remembered the President's response to the November protest. Thousands gathered to peacefully protest while the President watched a football game.

President Talks
However, following the death of four Kent State students and the campus violence that swept the nation, the President finally responded by talking with the protesters.

Students see a valuable object lesson in the President's response. Violence demands attention.

But they also see violence as a polarizer widening the gap between generations.

William Whitehead of 1624 Orchard Drive said it was too easy for the public to view campus demonstrators as "bums" spoiling for trouble.

"Too often, the banner headlines miss the focus of dissent. Our protest is concerned and real."

"We're worried about racism, war and poverty."

Generation Gap
Paul Whitehead, William's brother, pointed to the "generation gap" as a barrier to understanding.

Paul felt that he and his friends were already "involved" but worried about making their views known to the larger community.

Both brothers said that students have done a poor job of communicating their ideas to their hometowns.

"We must get out and talk to people. We need Appletonians behind us. The crises are national concerns—the campus has only provided a forum to discuss them. We spend too much time talking to other students who agree with us."

The students feel that real communication is the answer. For them protest spotlights the problem, but it is the communication that follows that provides solutions.

Manawa Man Fined $100

At Law Officers
During Investigation

WAUPACA—A Manawa man who threatened the city's chief of police and a Waupaca County patrolman with a .22 caliber pistol loaded with hollow point bullets Sunday night was charged with pointing a firearm at or toward another person and fined $100 Monday in County Court Branch 2.

Louis F. Peters, 39, pleaded guilty when he appeared before Judge Nathan Wiese. He paid the fine and was released.

Alternative to the fine would have been 60 days in the county jail with working privileges.

Called to Home
Chief Kenneth Stevens and County Patrolman Dennis Kussman were called to Peters home at 6:45 p.m. Sunday to quiet a disturbance.

According to the testimony of sheriff's department investigators, the officers knocked and the defendant called out to them to enter. When the officers opened the door, Peters pointed the pistol at Kussman and ordered him to put his gun on the floor.

Kussman complied and the two officers talked to Peters and finally persuaded him to give up his gun. They took him into custody and to the jail for the night.

Police & Fire Beat

WAUPACA—Mrs. Roxy L. Cobb, 19, 46½ South Main St., fight, the defendant kicked and hit him and used abusive and profane language. She was subdued and taken to Clintonville police station. Chief Bernard Pipkorn took her to the Waupaca County Jail where she was held until her court appearance Monday.

She was given a suspended 60-day sentence in the county jail and was placed on one year probation to the Department of Social Services and ordered to pay $15 court costs.

The charge followed an incident Saturday night when James Wockenfuss, Clintonville Police Department, was called to the Cobb home where the defendant was creating a disturbance.

New Road to Waupaca Is Not Opposed

WAUPACA—An on-site public hearing Monday brought no opposition to the construction of a three-quarter mile road extending from U.S. 10 north to the Waupaca River, west of the Waupaca Municipal Airport.

The hearing was called by the towns of Lind and Waupaca. Two rods of the proposed road will be in the Town of Lind and the balance in the Town of Waupaca.

Before work can begin on the road, according to Alex Pope, chairman of the Town of Waupaca, the area to be opened by the proposed road will have to be rezoned from agriculture to residential. Rezoning would come under the jurisdiction of the Town of Waupaca and the County Zoning Committee.

A permit for the roadway must also be obtained from the State Highway Commission and this is being handled through the office of the Waupaca County Highway Commissioner.

Worker From Green Bay Died Of Natural Cause

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP)—A pathologist report indicates Robert L. Aaron, 25, of the Neelyville, Mo., area died of apparent natural causes June 8, the Butler County coroner said Tuesday.

Aaron was found June 8 lying in a ditch in extreme southern Butler County. Authorities believed earlier he was killed by a blow to the head.

Aaron was last seen alive in a tavern near the Missouri-Arkansas border on U.S. Highway 67, shortly after returning from Green Bay, Wis., where he was employed.

Coroner Larry Cottrell said the report indicated Aaron died of a massive brain hemorrhage. An investigation continued into how Aaron got into the ditch.

Worker From Green Bay Died Of Natural Cause

CLINTONVILLE — The volunteer rescue squad was called about 2 p.m. Tuesday to assist Mrs. Herman Thielke, Clintonville, who fell and cut her head while walking on Main Street.

CLINTONVILLE — City police are continuing investigation of a break-in which occurred sometime early Friday morning at the Clintonville Cooperative.

A patrolman on routine patrol discovered a rear window broken in the building. No one was found near the building and Manager Kermit Sieber was called. On preliminary investigation, it was thought nothing was missing.

When the Cooperative opened in the morning, a tool box owned by Eli Stickney, an Arkansas border on U.S. Highway 67, shortly after returning from Green Bay, Wis., where he was employed.

Coroner Larry Cottrell said the report indicated Aaron died of a massive brain hemorrhage. An investigation continued into how Aaron got into the ditch.

Clintonville Boys' Baseball League Play Underway

CLINTONVILLE—The Boys' Baseball League standings for the first week show the Cards, Astros and Giants each with one win and no losses and the Braves, Reds and Cubs each with out a win.

The Cards beat the Braves, 13 to 9 with Tom Paroubek the winning pitcher and Mike Westphal the losing pitcher.

The Astros defeated the Reds, 8 to 7, with Glenn Mueller outpitching Jeff Hoppe. Craig Ruch hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning, giving the Astros the win.

The Giants beat the Cubs, 11 to 4, with Jeff Etheridge defeating Mike Allen.

Brillion Shooters Hit Perfect Score

BRILLION — John Vechart and Wally Sonnabend were sharpshooters with perfect 25 scores in the Brillion Conservation Club trap shooting league this week.

Bob's Standard Service team hit 108 of 125 clay birds and Brillion Sport Shop team was second with 106.

Other individual 20 or better scores were recorded by Ken Saenger, Jerry Bruegge and Elver Kruger. 24: Joe Shimek, 23: Lloyd Wolfmeyer, Dave Hartmann, Roger Olm, Edwin Voeltz, Don Baer and Barney Mullins, 22: Tim Eiting, Jim Sloma, Al Brack and Jim Hansen, 21, and Don Schmelter had a 20.

Youth Corps Organized To Investigate Pollution

MADISON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert Warren's student program to identify and halt polluters has begun with 22 young people hired as part of the Justice Department's summer intern program.

Those participating in Students To Oppose Pollution program will investigate and document air and water pollution complaints received from citizens across the state.

"It is only right that youth be called upon to participate in the preservation of our Wisconsin heritage," Warren said in a statement discussing the program which began Monday.

"This is a critical problem to which all generations must dedicate their efforts."

131 in Vacation School At Clintonville Church

CLINTONVILLE — The 1970 St. Martin Vacation Bible school has an enrollment of 131 children, with 45 teachers and helpers.

Bible school will close this week with a service at 10:30 a.m. Friday. Parents will attend the closing service to observe their children's activities and art projects.

Summer School Session Starts At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Forty-five students in grades three through six from the public and parochial schools started summer living things and the fact that school Tuesday at the Longfield all plants and animals have a low school. The program runs from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday and will end on July 16.

The summer project is being study of nature.

Clintonville Pool Schedules Adult, Family Nights

CLINTONVILLE — Adult family nights will again be held this year at the municipal swimming pool, according to Jim Richardson, pool co-manager.

Adult night will be each Wednesday from 6:30 to 9 p.m. and is for anyone over 18 years of age.

Family night will be each Monday from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Children wishing to swim at this time must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

The pool opened Sunday for the season, but unfavorable weather conditions have limited the turnout for swimming up to this time.

Approximately 300 youngsters have registered for swimming which runs from July 13 to July 31, and for several more in the second session, third session, Aug. 3 to Aug. 21.

Industry Ignoring Problems Of Drugs, State Council Told

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Two per cent of the American work force has a drug problem, and employers are showing an unwillingness to recognize the problem and its dangers, an insurance spokesman has told a state drug council.

"If a company has 50 employees, it can expect to have somebody in trouble with drugs," said James Ray of the Employers Insurance of Wausau Commission.

"It doesn't matter whether they are getting drugs legally or illegally," he said. "A machine doesn't know whether it's legal or illegal." Ray told the state unit, referring to accident statistics.

American industry is ignoring the drug abuse problem in its ranks in the same fashion in which it ignored alcoholism 20 years ago, he said. Industry still does not have adequate detection and treatment programs for alcoholism, although society has recognized the scope of that problem, he said.

No Policy

Less than one per cent of U.S. business has any written company policy on drug abuse problems, he said.

"By and large most companies are unaware that they are literally taking the drug culture into their plants," he said of the hiring of young people.

"Top flight people"—insurance salesmen, engineers and the like—are drawn from college populations where drug abuse problems are accented, said Ray.

"It's curious how management tends to deny it," when asked about drug problems, however, he added.

Doubts Extent

He said that the comments were a "blanket indictment" of American industry, and added that he doubted the problem is as large in private enterprise as Ray depicted it to be.

Dr. Joseph Benforado, a University of Wisconsin expert on drug use and abuse, immediately sided with Ray, however.

Several national studies have shown that the 2 per cent figure is accurate, he said.

Industry must realize that it is drawing its work force from high school and college products, and young people are growing up today in an atmosphere of acceptance of drug use, he said.

Robert Walter of the State Council Justice pointed out that losses of effective work and training cost losses of fired personnel are a greater problem to industry from drug abuse than are accidents.

Resort to Coverups

People in industry, said Ray, resort to "monstrous" and "bizarre coverups" rather than admit that workers in their plants have drug abuse problems.

He advocated the "worry" approach. Supervisory personnel should immediately suspect any unexplainable behavior among their workers, he said.

Rather than playing at amateur diagnosis, workers with such symptoms should be sent immediately for counseling from sources outside the firm.

The outside sources are necessary to prevent legal problems, he said.

"Industry would like to hide its head in the sand and pretend that the problems are there," said Ray. "But somebody has to get to these people," he said of drug abusers.

Employees Discharged

Treatment and educational facilities for such purposes for industry are almost totally lacking in Wisconsin, he told the commission.

Industrial drug abuse problems are largest on the two coasts, and are probably quite moderate as yet outside of the urban centers of Wisconsin, he assured the commission.

But the problem is major, he said. One New York firm discharges about 80 of its 20,000 employees for drug abuse problems last year, he said.

The commission also heard from UW Regent Walter Renk, who heads a regent committee on the subject.

The problem is not decreasing, in scope, he told the commission.

"It doesn't matter whether they are getting drugs legally or illegally," he said. "A machine doesn't know whether it's legal or illegal." Ray told the state unit, referring to accident statistics.

Adult Books Taken Home by Youths Is Problem for Library

The biggest problem the Appleton Public Library has relating to pornography perhaps lies in the fact that teen-agers have access to the adult section.

"It's kind of sticky at times," Gordon Bebeau, director of the library, told the Breakfast Optimist Club Tuesday.

"We buy books for the adult section with adults in mind," he said. Books also are bought specifically for young people.

If parents would restrict the kind of books their children check out of the library, the teen-agers might not bring home books their parents don't want them to read, the director added.

He'd like to see that responsibility resting with the parents instead of the library restricting its patrons' privileges.

"We need cooperation from parents in screening what their children read and we expect to get it," Bebeau said.

Referring to pornography as "dirty books," Bebeau said that "fortunately, we don't have a real problem" because of the budget.

Budget limitations force the library to "pick and choose" the books it will put on its shelves. He pointed out that the library is operating on a total budget of $180,000 this year. The library purchased only 6,000 volumes last year with a portion of a similar budgetary allotment.

He added that the library purchases books that make the best seller lists in Chicago and New York.

People are "less and less shocked as time goes on," Bebeau told the Optimists. That makes pinpointing pornography that much tougher.

Even the experts aren't in agreement as to the effects of pornography on children, he said. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, has said that today's literature is "creating criminals faster than jails can be built," according to Bebeau.

But studies have shown that delinquent children read less than other children, probably because they have reading problems.

The conductor of a reading program in a Detroit ghetto came to the conclusion that "you can't teach a kid about sex through reading," Bebeau related. "He already knew about it."

He cited another instance to discredit the effect of pornography on readers when he said "Raping is a much older occurrence than reading, but a person isn't likely to be motivated to rape by a book."

Steiger Supports 18-Year-Old Vote

WASHINGTON — Sixth District Rep. William A. Steiger said today he will vote favorably on a bill to extend the 1965 Voting Rights Act and lower the voting age to 18, but he wants the questions considered separately.

The House is scheduled to vote this week on a Senate-passed extension of the Voting Rights Act which includes an amendment lowering the voting age to 18.

Independent

That amendment does not belong in the bill because the voting rights act and the voting age rider "should be considered independently" on their own merits, and because "there is doubt about the constitutionality of any Congressional attempt to change the voting age by statute," Steiger said in his weekly report.

But if the House refuses to vote to separate the two questions, "I will vote 'aye' because the voting rights bill needs to be passed, and I can but hope for prompt court action to judge the constitutionality of Congress' acting on the voting age by statute," Steiger said.

Voting Rights

The Voting Rights bill would extend the 1965 act which sent federal voting registrars into five southern states and parts of two others, resulting in the extension of voting rights to almost one million blacks.

The right to vote has been called the "perservative of all rights," Steiger observed.

"There is no greater privilege or duty for an American citizen than to participate in the electoral process. Throughout our nation's history, we have enlarged the number of citizens eligible to vote," Steiger said in his report.

Steiger said in his report that he hoped for support of the voting rights bill by the House.

"Keenly Aware"

Speaking favorably toward lowering the voting age, the Republican congressman said, "young people can intelligently participate as voters. Most are keenly aware and interested in the world around them and are anxious to participate in the formulation of governmental policy through the traditional tool of the ballot box."

"In our country, 18-year-olds are considered adults. They are accountable for their actions," Steiger admitted the constitutional amendment process would be "tedious" — it would require ratification by three-fourths of the states in addition to Congressional action.

The dangers of lowering the voting age by statute is the chance of its being thrown into the Supreme Court.

Changing the voting age by statute "could bring to bear on the Court an immense amount of political pressure to rule one way or another," Steiger said.

At the same time, Steiger has joined with several other Congressmen in sponsoring a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18. More than 60 similar amendments have been introduced in the House, Steiger said.

This newspaper is proud to continue the policy of making American flag kits available at nominal cost and as a convenience to our readers. We believe that the American flag should be displayed where possible and as often as practical — and most assuredly on national observances — and that such display is not necessarily a symbol of bigotry nor a cover up for the insincere patriot; indeed, we would deplore this kind of hypocrisy and desecration of our flag.

We are happy to announce that the suppliers from whom we receive the American flag kits have made it possible for The Post-Crescent to supply — free — a large, full-colored wall display of the United States which graphically shows the historic growth of our nation and its flag. The "maps" are being distributed to elementary and junior high school classrooms only.

Stop by our offices in Appleton, Neenah or Oshkosh for your flag or use the attached mailing form.

Schools desiring these display "maps" which have not received them are asked to contact the promotion department of The Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wis. 54911.

Old Enough to Fight' Familiar Arguments For Voting Age Drop

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Arguments growing familiar about lowering the voting age have been presented again to a state legislative committee studying the age of majority in Wisconsin.

Lawmakers and citizen members were reminded by four youthful speakers that those old enough to be drafted are old enough to vote — and that the U.S. was born out of protests over taxation without representation.

The comments came as the legislative study committee considering all statutory ages of adulthood in Wisconsin met in an abbreviated session.

Witnesses were reminded that the committee is interested in topics as diverse as the beer drinking age and the age of contract and marriage in Wisconsin, but almost all comments of the youthful four dealt with the age of voting.

Old Enough

"A man who is old enough to carry out his country's foreign duty in a foreign country is the same as a youth brought up in certainly old enough to vote on Wisconsin?" asked State Sen. Gordon Roseleip, R-Darlington, of Congress.

"I, 17, president of the White-water High School student congress.

Raise Draft Age

If lawmakers are unwilling to lower the voting age, they should raise the draft age to 21, he suggested. To do otherwise represents a form of "taxation without representation," he said.

Lowering the voting age would prove to the state's youth that the political system is meaningful, would give moderates of voice over radicals, and would promote democracy, said Gregory Wilmoth of Hales Corners.

"Young Republicans and Young Democrats are basically only playing politics," while radicals who resort to violence have a real voice and role in political events, said the 19-year-old University of Wisconsin student.

Lowering the voting age would give moderates a voice as well that is listened to, he said.

But legislative members of the committee, which met for only 53 minutes despite paid expenses and mileage, were clearly interested in other aspects of the problem.

"Do you think a youth brought up in New Jersey or New York carry out his country's foreign duty at the University thinks the policy in a foreign country is the same as a youth brought up in certainly old enough to vote on Wisconsin?" asked State Sen. Gordon Roseleip, R-Darlington, of Congress.

Police & Fire Beat

A 60-day term in the Outagamie County Jail under the set trial for Monday Flowers when the auto in which she was riding was struck in the rear by another car. Georgia Howman was a passenger in an auto driven by Christine L. Krutz, 20, Box 54, Larsen, Appleton police said the Krutz car was stopped for a red light at Oneida Street and westbound on Franklin when it was hit in the rear by a car driven by Helmut A. Wolff, 46, 2028 N. Appleton St., also westbound. Wolff told authorities his attention was on keys he had dropped in the seat and that he couldn't stop in time.

A small gas cylinder which flared up while being used with an insect fogger, sent one unit of the Appleton Fire Department Tuesday night to the home of R. W. McLennan, 1817 N. Marmoxoe County, took members of the powerful Joint Finance Committee through the communities and to one of two nuclear-powered electricity generating plants that could be the area's bonanza.

To the north—along Lake Michigan's shoulder — a single reactor unit is being built for three central Wisconsin utilities. To the south, a twin reactor unit is being built to supply Milwaukee and the Fox Valley with power.

Taxes on utility property are now assessed and collected by the state and distributed by a formula that gives most of the money to the communities where the electricity is generated.

Formula Change

Critics of that law say it creates tax islands. They want the formula changed with a wider distribution of funds from the tax.

The issue is expected to play a large role in any debate over tax reform—which is expected to occupy a large chunk of time during the next session of the legislature.

An attorney for the two towns told of expenses they would have to meet because of the new plants.

Professional planners, hired to help meet the expected impact of the plants, which are expected to cause rapid industrial and residential growth in the area north of Manitowish, are halfway through preliminary map studies, he said.

Next is an inventory of existing structures and land use patterns, transportation and recreational needs and an estimated cost for needed public facilities.

Any concentration of people would require construction of sewage treatment plants and possibly water utilities, he said.

Kenneth Wright's sewage treatment plants and a possibly water utilities, he said, hit-and-run car caused about $150 damage to the front end of difficult and expensive in the event of any rapid population building.

Nuclear Plant Tour Part of State Tax Study

Officials Working on New Formula Visit Town of Two Creeks

TWO CREEKS AP — State officials visited Tuesday two towns whose pocketbooks could be bulging or sagging depending on possible changes in Wisconsin's utility tax laws.

Officials of Carlton Keweenaw County, and Two Creeks Manitowish County, took members of the powerful Joint Finance Committee through the communities and to one of two nuclear-powered electricity generating plants that could be the area's bonanza.

3 Valley Youths Elected to Badger Boys Mayor Posts

Three youths from the Fox Valley attending Badger Boys' State at Ripon this week have been elected mayors of mythical cities.

Tobin Siebers, Kaukauna, is the mayor of Bashford; Thomas Klessig, Chilton, mayor of Ludington; and Peter Dunwiddie, Neenah, mayor of McGovern.

Meanwhile, in Madison, where the Badger Girls State is being held, the more than 500 delegates have called for lowering the voting age to 19.

The provision was included in party platforms adopted as part of the conference on state and local governments.

Both mythical parties — the Nationalists and the Federalists — also adopted planks calling for expansion of state vocational schools and tougher antipollution laws.

The Federalists asked for revision of welfare laws, extension of Project Head Start,

Brother Saved in Fire

Kimberly Youth Gets Award for Heroism

KIMBERLY — Dennis Socha, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Socha, 208 N. Sidney St., was presented with a heroism award at the opening session of the State Fire Chiefs' Association annual convention at Rhinelander Sunday.

The award is an annual presentation at the convention and was made by James Morgan, Madison attorney and legal counsel for the association. On hand to witness the presentation were Mr. and Mrs. Socha and son David.

On Sept. 19, 1969, at 6:30 p.m. Socha was credited with rescuing his younger brother, David, 15, from a smoke and flame engulfed living room which had suddenly erupted as a result of a defective water heater in the basement.

Brother Asleep

According to the report, David was asleep on aavenport when the fire broke out. He awoke, but due to dense smoke could not see. His brother who had already fled the burning building, broke a first floor side window, crawled in and pulled his brother back through the window to safety.

Both boys were hospitalized, David suffering second and third degree burns on the upper part of his body and smoke inhalation. Dennis was treated for lacerations of the arm, resulting from the broken window, and smoke inhalation. Both are fully recovered without any permanent disability.

The award is sponsored by the American Family Insurance Company and was made at the recommendation of the Kimberly Volunteer Fire Department. William Van Hout, Kimberly chief attending the convention, commended Dennis for his outstanding demonstration of bravery and quick thinking in the rescue of his brother.

1st Week Attendance High At Sunset Park Swim Lake

KIMBERLY — Attendance totaled 14,109 at the Sunset Park swim lake during its first week of operation. Greatest use of the new facility came Tuesday, with 3,492 swimmers, according to Mrs. Jo Gehl, pool director.

Other days' attendance showed 3,165 on Monday; 1,792 Wednesday; 2,584 Thursday; 2,850 Friday; 156 Saturday and 70 on Sunday. Swim rules adopted after the first week of operation are: from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. no talking to life guards; no throwing of sand or rocks; no floating objects; no food on beach; rest period of 10 minutes every hour; leaving water within 1 1/2 minutes after whistle; only red triangle holders may cross red markers; raft area entered only at red markers and no swimming permitted in street clothes.

Swimming lessons will begin at 11 a.m. Monday. Sessions on Monday will be for beginners, 5 through 7, whose last names have initials A through Q. Those

Woman's Death Ruled Due to Heart Attack

Mrs. Rose Bohren, 77, 1727 S. Adams St., died of a heart attack Tuesday at her home, according to Outagamie County Deputy Coroner C.J. Schink. She was found in her bed by her daughter about 7:30 p.m., Schink said. The body was released to the Wichmann Funeral Home.

Kaukauna Crash Injures 3 Persons

KAUKAUNA — Three persons were taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital for treatment of assorted injuries about 11:35 p.m. Friday after a four-car accident at Crooks Avenue and 15th Street.

Injured were Donald Myers, 33, 1009 W. Winnebago St., Appleton, bruised head and neck; James Broreren, 16, Sherwood, face and arm cuts and a possible broken jaw; and Peter Smet, 16, route 2, Hilbert, out that roots in a city sewer passenger in the Broreren car, cuts to the head and legs and a bruised shoulder.

According to police, the Myers auto struck the rear of the Broreren car, pushing it into the path of an auto driven by Mark Wallace, 18, route 4, Appleton. The Myers auto then went into

$30 Expense Draws Kaukauna Discussion

KAUKAUNA — A motion to present a check for $30 to a citizen who claimed that a faulty city sewer line caused sewer backup in his basement led to considerable discussion Tuesday night before being defeated by a 7-3 vote of the City Council.

Ald. Russel Dix (4th) pointed out that roots in a city sewer line were a contributing factor to sewer backup at the residence of Elroy Aerts, who submitted a $38 claim to the city. He felt Aerts should be offered $30 to settle the claim. The claim had been denied by the city insurance carrier, and City Atty. Donald Green ruled that the city had no legal liability in the matter.

Ald. George Simon (3rd) said it would violate the law if the claim were granted after being denied by the insurance carrier. Dix claimed that the city was partly responsible for negligence in failing to keep sanitary sewer lines clean and that some payment should be offered.

A driveway, back onto the road and crossed to the opposite side, hitting a parked car owned by Richard Helf, 1400 Glenview Ave., Kaukauna, almost one block from the original accident scene.

He was supported by Ald. William Rogers (4th) who said that the city had a moral obligation to Aerts and pointed to the small amount of money asked. He said the city should be able to return this small sum to a taxpayer who suffered the inconvenience of sewer backup.

In a roll call vote, Dix and Rogers were supported only by Ald. Aloys Peters (5th). A request for liquor license renewal at the Eagles Club was held for further study after Education to vacate a portion of the Elm Street from Island Street to its termination on the west end was referred to the Planning Commission. Its request to vacate a portion of sidewalk on license should be issued. The west side of Island Street is in the process of selling their old building to the Board of Public Works for study.

Apostle Island Bill Approved

House Committee Excludes Indian Lands From Park

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
WASHINGTON — The House Interior Committee today approved a bill establishing the Apostle Islands as a national lakeshore but excluded any Indian land of any type from being within the boundaries of the park.

Only two members of the committee voted against the amended bill which differs from the Senate measure which included certain land belonging to the Red Cliff and Bad River tribes.

The bill authorizes an appropriation of $4.25 million for acquisition of land and $5 million for development of the park including administration buildings and recreational facilities. Three members of the tribes living on the Apostle Island, million authorization for development of the national lakeshore park was not included in the $5 million authorization for development of the national lakeshore park. It is not known when the bill will come on the floor of the House.

The Red Cliff Tribal Council, Mrs. Alma Peterson, council member, Loretta Ellis, representing the Oneida Tribe and vice president of the National Council of American Indians, and Samuel F. Livingston, chairman of the Bad River Tribes' Council, all contended that the national park, regardless of the amendment approved by the House Interior Committee today, will be established on or within reservation boundaries.

One of the members voting against the measure was John Kyl, R-Iowa, who contended that the "fragile conditions" on the territory including rock foundations, animal wildlife refuges and flowers might not be preserved if tourist trade flooded the park.

He pointed out that the Indians had preserved the park wisely and he had his doubts about whether this ground would be kept in as good shape in the future. He also pointed out that the nation's sewer system which would be required for a national park was not included in the $5 million authorization for development of the national lakeshore park. It is not known when the bill will come on the floor of the House.

Jury Trial Ordered For Kaukauna Man

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A Circuit Court jury trial was ordered Monday for Dennis O. Lemmens, 22, route 1, Kaukauna, who pleaded innocent before Judge James W. Byers in Criminal Court to a charge of illegal possession of marijuana. Lemmens was arrested April 17 in Wrightstown after the car he was riding in was stopped on a traffic offense. The special deputy saw the defendant throw a package into the gutter from the passenger side of the car. He retrieved the package, which after testing by county police, proved to contain marijuana.

After Lemmens' attorney requested a jury trial, Byers transferred the case to Circuit Court, with a trial date to be set as soon as the case is assigned to one of the circuit branches. A $500 bond on the misdemeanor charge was continued.
